Holyoke Community College, Holyoke, Massachusetts

Two-year public community college for men and women. Undergraduates: 1,481 men, 983 women. Calendar: Semester, summer session. Location: Small city. Special features: College was established to provide educational opportunities for both those who plan to transfer and those interested in starting a career after graduation.

CURRICULUM. Undergraduate degrees offered: Associate. Fields of study: Art (studio), biological sciences (biology, botany, zoology), business and commerce (accounting, business management and administration, sales and retailing, secretarial studies), communications (journalism), computer science and systems analysis (data processing), education (art, child development and nursery, elementary, music, secondary), engineering (chemical, engineering aide), English and literature (English), foreign languages (French, German, Spanish), health and medical professions (medical records librarian, medical technology, nursing–registered, physical therapy, radiology and x-ray technology), history and cultures (American, European), mathematics, physical sciences (chemistry, physics), psychology (general), social sciences (economics, political science, sociology). Special programs: Cooperative education, study abroad (summer in Germany). Programs for students from minorities or low-income families: Special counselor, pre-admission summer program, tutoring, remedial instruction, reduced course load. Required freshman courses: English composition, history or social studies, science. Tests used for counseling, placement, or credit: Credit will generally be given on basis of CLEP Subject Examinations. CGP given at college to nursing students. Foreign language, typing, and shorthand tests given for counseling and placement. Academic regulations: A student earning less than a 1.4 cumulative quality-point average after attempting from 31 to 45 semester hours of study will be suspended.

ADMISSIONS. Applications in 1971: 1,315 men applied, 1,237 were accepted; 915 women applied, 837 were accepted. Admissions requirements: High school English 4 units, social studies 1, foreign language 2, mathematics 3, science 1, electives 5. These units are recommended for those who wish to elect a transfer curriculum. However, students may be considered for admission who have not completed such a program. CGP required of nursing applicants. The SAT is generally required at the time a student applies for transfer to a 4-year college. Basis for selection: In keeping with the open-door admissions policy of community colleges, this college offers educational opportunities to students of varying backgrounds, some of whom would not initially qualify for admission to more selective senior institutions. Application fee: $10. Application procedures: No closing date for applications (continue to accept as long as there are openings), applicants notified of decisions as soon as possible, accepted applicants must reply by paying student activity fee within 2 weeks. Transfer applicants: About 200 apply annually, and 200 are accepted. Apply as soon as possible for fall term. Almost all who apply are accepted because admission is based mainly on high school record. The general policy is to give credit for those courses at previous college also offered at this college in which grades of C or better were earned.

STUDENT LIFE. Freshman class: 1,000 men, 450 women. 98% from Massachusetts, 100% commute, 5% from minority backgrounds. Programs undergraduates choose: Liberal arts 40%, engineering 2%, education 18%, business 25%, fine arts 5%, health services 6%. Postgraduate studies: 65% of graduates enter 4-year programs. Student activities: Student government, student newspaper, magazine, yearbook, television, film, Newman Club, drama, symphony orchestra, chorus, Afro-American Club, social service organizations (Sigma Rho Honor Society State Hospital Aides in Remotivation, AIM–tutors children). Athletics: Baseball, basketball, golf-M, ice hockey-M, soccer-M, softball-W. Student services: Counseling, student employment service for undergraduates, placement service for graduates and alumni.

ANNUAL EXPENSES. Tuition and fees: $100 tuition per semester, $25 student activity fee per year, out-of-state students $250 tuition per semester. Other expenses: $50.

FINANCIAL AID. Aid offered: Loans, jobs. NDSL, EOG, CWSP. 600 accepted freshman applicants were judged to have need, 80 of these were offered aid, 15 of these were offered the full amounts they were estimated to need. Basis for selection: College attempts to provide financial aid to those in need. Application procedures: No closing date for applications, applicants notified of decisions as soon as possible, recipients of aid offers must reply as soon as possible. PCS required.

In recent years, no freshmen and less than 1% of all enrolled undergraduates have been required to withdraw. Graduate programs: Biological sciences, computer science and systems analysis, education, engineering, English and journalism, fine and applied arts, foreign language and literature, health professions, mathematics, philosophy, physical sciences, psychology, social sciences, international affairs. Additional information: Students are encouraged to plan individual programs drawn from the full array of courses, ranging from traditional to experimental, offered in the liberal arts and in the engineering colleges.

ADMISSIONS. Applications in 1971: 3,674 women applied, 753 were accepted. Admissions requirements: SAT by January of senior year. ACH, as appropriate for the intended major field. High school English 4 units, social studies 2, foreign language 3 or 4, mathematics 3 or 4, science 2. Although no specific preparation is required and students are admitted with divergent credentials, this listing of units reflects the usual secondary school experience of enrolled students. Basis for selection: Secondary school records, ACH and SAT scores, in that order, are the most effective predictors of academic success. Significant involvement in school and community affairs, special talents, and evidence of personal resourcefulness and originality are sought. Minority applicants of high promise are seriously considered in spite of deficiencies in grades and scores. Middle 50% of applicants accepted for admission had SAT-verbal scores between 620 and 730 and SAT-mathematical scores between 610 and 700. Application fee: $20, may be waived for applicants with financial need. Application procedures: Closing date for applications February 1, applicants notified of decisions by April 15, accepted applicants must reply beginning May 1. CRDA, EDP-F. Transfer applicants: About 800 apply annually, and 70 are accepted. Apply by March 1 for fall term. More than half of the enrolled transfer students began their work in the second semester. College transcript and regular freshman credentials are required. Credit given for grades of C or higher in previous courses. Additional information: Accepted applicants, with approval from the university, may defer entrance for one semester or for one year. Well qualified and mature students may be admitted after junior year or in middle of senior year of high school.

STUDENT LIFE. Freshman class: 350 women, 30% from Massachusetts, 90% live on campus, 10% commute, 11% from minority backgrounds. Middle 50% of enrolled freshmen have SAT-verbal scores between 610 and 710 and SAT-mathematical scores between 600 and 700. Programs undergraduates choose: Liberal arts 100%. Postgraduate studies: 35% of graduates enter graduate or professional programs. Student activities: Student government (students have equal representation on most standing committees of the faculty, make dormitory regulations, and control the financing of all student organizations, student newspaper, magazine, yearbook, radio, religious organizations (Protestant, Catholic, and Jewish), drama, or musical theater, dance, orchestra, marching band, concert band, concert chorale, Jackson Jills, wind ensemble, political organizations, ethnic organizations (Afro-American Society, Puerto Rican Student Union, Chinese, Armenian, International, Scandinavian), social service organizations (the Leonard Carmichael Society is a large, active channel for a comprehensive array of community service activities). Athletics: Basketball, field hockey, sailing, softball, squash, swimming and diving, tennis. Student services: Counseling, health services, student employment service for undergraduates, placement service for graduates and alumni. Regulations: Unless residing in their own homes freshmen and sophomores must live in dormitories. Residential freshmen may not operate automobiles. Other than federal and state law and safety regulations, residential rules are made by students in "autonomous" dormitories.

ANNUAL EXPENSES. Tuition and fees: $3,050. Room and board: $1,470. Other expenses: $300.

FINANCIAL AID. Aid offered: Grants, loans, jobs. NDSL, EOG, CWSP. 134 accepted freshman applicants were judged to have need, 112 of these were offered aid and in the full amounts they were estimated to need. Basis for selection: Financial need is the primary consideration. More than 35% of total aid available is awarded to candidates from minority backgrounds. Application procedures: Closing date for applications February 1, applicants notified of decisions by April 15, recipients of aid offers must reply beginning May 1. PCS required. Transfer students: Although transfer applicants are as eligible for full financial aid as are freshmen, in practice, proportionately fewer awards are made to entering transfer students.

Massachusetts Institute of Technology
Cambridge, Massachusetts

Four-year private nonsectarian university for men and women. Undergraduates: 3,790 men, 355 women. Graduates: 3,400 men, 300 women. Calendar: 4-1-4, summer session. Location: Metropolitan area of large city. Special features: The scope of the institute has always been wider than its title "Institute of Technology," might suggest, and today its commitments to the humanities and social sciences are providing an entirely new dimension of scholarship.

CURRICULUM. Undergraduate degrees offered: Bachelor. Fields of study: Architecture (city planning, urban studies), art (history, photography), biological sciences (biochemistry, biology, ecology, nutrition and food science), business and commerce (business management and administration, behavioral science in management, management science, dynamics of management systems, international relations), communications (film), computer science and systems analysis (computer science, systems analysis, computer system design), engineering (aerospace and aeronautical, architectural, chemical, civil, electrical, engineering design, materials science, mechanical, metallurgical, naval architecture and marine, ocean), English and literature (literature), ethnic studies (black or Afro-American), foreign languages (French, German, linguistics, Russian, Spanish), history and cultures (economic-technological, social-cultural, intellectual-scientific, political-diplomatic), mathematics, military science (air science, military science–army, naval science), music (composition and theory, history), philosophy and religion (philosophy, scholastic philosophy), physical sciences (astrophysics, chemistry, earth science, geology, geophysics, meteorology, oceanography, physical sciences, physics), psychology (experimental, general), social sciences (anthropology, economics, international relations, political science). Special programs: Accelerated program, independent study, study abroad (informal program), pass-fail freshman year, some departments offer work-study programs. Programs for students from minorities or low-income families: Special counselor, tutoring, remedial instruction, reduced course load, voluntary postadmission preregistration summer program. Military training: Air Force ROTC, Army ROTC, Navy ROTC. Required freshman courses: Mathematics, science, humanities. Tests used for counseling, placement, or credit: Placement, credit, or both will sometimes be given on basis of Advanced Placement Examinations. M.I.T. Advanced Standing Examinations, "A" levels, used for counseling and placement. Academic regulations: No freshman is formally "flunked out"; in the past, about 1% have been urged to withdraw. 98% return sophomore year. Graduate programs: Architecture, biological sciences, management, city planning, computer science and systems analysis, engineering, mathematics, philosophy, physical sciences, psychology, social sciences, urban studies, linguistics. Additional information: Special integrated programs are offered for the freshman year. Many interdepartmental majors are possible. Premedical and prelaw students can get excellent preparation.

ADMISSIONS. Applications in 1971: 3,304 men applied, 1,564 were accepted; 393 women applied, 194 were accepted. Admissions requirements: SAT and ACH by January of senior year. ACH in mathematics (Level I or II), chemistry or physics, and English composition or American history required. Applicants for early action must complete all test requirements by the beginning of the senior year. High school English 4 years, mathematics through trigonometry, and 1 year each of chemistry and physics required. Interview required. Basis for selection: It is the intention to admit candidates whose qualities of intellect, initiative, and energy demonstrate desire for both intellectual and personal self-fulfillment. High school record and the mathematics and science achievement tests are very important, but they are considered together with the student's involvement in activities, and his recommendations and interview. College Board test scores are used "with sensitivity," as recommended by the College Board, when evaluating minority group or educationally disadvantaged applicants. Middle 50% of applicants accepted for admission had SAT-verbal scores between 600 and 749 and SAT-mathematical scores between 700 and 800. Application fee: $15, may be waived for applicants with financial need (if the fee would be a hardship and if counselor or principal will support fee waiver by written request). Application procedures: Closing date for applications January 10, applicants notified of decisions in late March, accepted applicants must reply by May 1. CRDA. Transfer applicants: About 400 apply annually, and 140 are accepted. Apply by May 1 for fall term. Other requirements and procedures: May 1 deadline unless applicant is in first year of college, in which case application should be completed after first year record is available. Same tests required as for freshman applicants, unless student has completed a substantial amount of college-level work in mathematics and science. No required grade-point average. Admission procedure similar to that for freshmen. Credit awarded for subjects which are substantially equivalent to corresponding subjects at this university, and in which applicant has received a grade above the lowest passing grade, or better. Advanced standing examinations at this university are also permitted. Additional information: No special degree residency requirements for transfers. Transfers are admitted for both semesters, and for the summer session.

STUDENT LIFE. Freshman class: 899 men, 124 women. 10% from Massachusetts, 99% live on campus, 1% commute, 6% from minority backgrounds. Middle 50% of enrolled freshmen have SAT-verbal scores between 600 and 749 and SAT-mathematical scores between 700 and 800. Programs undergraduates choose: Humanities and social science 12%, engineering 41%, management 6%, science 34%, architecture and planning 7%. Postgraduate studies: 75% of graduates enter graduate or professional programs. Student activities: Student government (undergraduate assembly, general assembly, inter-fraternity conference, dormitory council, various committees), student newspapers, magazines, yearbook, radio, religious organizations (Baha'i Discussion Group, United Christian Fellowship, College Life Group, Hillel, Tech Catholic Community, various Protestant groups, Modern Man Society, Students International Meditation Society), drama, musical theater, dance (folk, modern, and informal), symphony orchestra, concert band, jazz band, glee club, mixed chorus, baton society, Students for a Democratic Society, Young Americans for Freedom, Young Democrats, Young Republicans, Young Socialist Alliance, various action groups, Black Student Union, social service organizations (Alpha Chi Delta, Alpha Phi Omega, Urban Action), fraternities. Athletics: Baseball-M, basketball, bowling-M, cross-country-M, fencing, field hockey, touch football-M, golf-M, gymnastics-M, ice hockey-M, lacrosse-M, rifle-M, rowing (crew), sailing, skiing-M, soccer-M, softball, squash-M, swimming and diving-M, tennis-M, track and field-M, water polo-M, wrestling-M, badminton-M, pistol-M, volleyball-M, table tennis-M. Student services: Counseling, health services, student employment service for undergraduates, placement service for graduates and alumni, psychiatric, premedical, prelaw counseling. Regulations: Unless living at home, freshmen under 21 years of age must live in dormitories or fraternities. Some dormitories and fraternities are coeducational. Additional information: The university assumes in its students a commitment to adult values which is expressed by extending to them a large measure of responsible self-government and personal freedom.

ANNUAL EXPENSES. Tuition and fees: $2,650. Room and board: $1,500. Other expenses: $110.

FINANCIAL AID. Aid offered: Grants, loans, jobs. NDSL, EOG, CWSP. 566 accepted freshman applicants were judged to have need, 566 of these were offered aid, 566 of these were offered the full amounts they were estimated to need. Basis for selection: The university will meet each student's need as determined following CSS guidelines. An equity system is used: the first segment of each student's need is met with a combination of loan and job; remaining need is met with scholarship. The loan and job position is lower for minority group students, resulting in larger amounts of scholarship aid. Academic qualifications are not considered. Application procedures: Closing date for applications January 10, applicants notified of decisions by April 15, recipients of aid offers must reply by May 1. PCS required. University's own aid application form also required.

Merrimack College, North Andover, Massachusetts

Four-year Roman Catholic college of arts and science for men and women. Undergraduates: 1,745 men, 1,164 women. Calendar: Semester, 2 summer sessions. Location: Suburban community 25 miles from Boston.

CURRICULUM. Undergraduate degrees offered: Associate, bachelor. Fields of study: Biological sciences (biochemistry, biology), business and commerce (accounting, finance, marketing), education (secondary), engineering (civil, electrical), English and literature (English, literature), foreign languages (French), health and medical professions (medical technology), history and cultures (American, European), mathematics, philosophy and religion (philosophy), physical sciences (astronomy, chemistry, physical sciences, physics), psychology (general), social sciences (economics, political science, sociology). Special programs: Cooperative education (business administration only), study abroad (in an approved course of study). Programs for students from minorities or low-income families: Tutoring, reduced course load. Required freshman courses: English composition, social studies, mathematics, religion. Tests used for counseling, placement, or credit: Placement, credit, or both will generally be given for grades of 3 and higher in Advanced Placement Examinations. Academic regulations: Cumulative grade-point average above 1.25; second semester above 1.25 and no more than one failure. About 88% of class complete freshman year in good academic standing.

ADMISSIONS. Applications in 1971: 2,477 men and women applied. 1,832 were accepted. Admissions requirements: ACT or SAT by January of senior year. ACH tests are not required, but it is strongly suggested that at least 2 be taken in English and in mathematics, by the time the application is received. High school English 4 units, social studies 2, foreign language 2, mathematics 2, science 1, electives 5. If a student wishes to major in mathematics or science, 4 units of mathematics are required and 2 of science. Interview recommended. Basis for selection: The high school record is considered most important. A B to B− grade-point average is suggested and rank in top half of class is required. SAT score should be in upper 400s. These requirements are not so strictly adhered to for minority or low-income groups if there is a reasonable hope of success. Application fee: $15, may be waived for applicants with financial need. Application procedures: Closing date for applications March 1 for residents, July 31 for commuters, applicants notified of decisions usually 3-4 weeks after receipt of application, accepted applicants must reply usually 3 weeks after notification. EDP-S. Transfer applicants: About 180 apply annually, and 135 are accepted. Apply by July 31 for fall term. Other requirements and procedures: applicants from a 4-year college must have a 2.0 grade-point average and be in good standing with previous college; applicants from a junior college must have approximately a 2.5; only grades of C or better are transferable.

STUDENT LIFE. Freshman class: 370 men, 240 women. 70% from Massachusetts, 45% live on campus, 55% commute, 1% from minority backgrounds. Middle 50% of enrolled freshmen have SAT-verbal scores between 416 and 530 and SAT-mathematical scores between 455 and 560. Programs undergraduates choose: Liberal arts 68%, engineering 7%, education 11%, business 14%. Postgraduate studies: 30-35% of graduates enter graduate or professional programs. Student activities: Student government (Student Government Association, President's Council on Student Activities), student newspaper, magazine, yearbook, radio, drama, concert band, Young Democrats, Young Republicans, Afro-American Society, social service organizations (Merrimaction), fraternities. Athletics: Basketball, bowling, cross-country-M, football-M, golf-M, gymnastics, ice hockey-M, sailing, skiing, soccer-M, softball, swimming and diving-W, tennis, track and field, wrestling, riding, rhythmatics, volleyball. Student services: Counseling, health services, student employment service for undergraduates, placement service for graduates and alumni. Regulations: Freshmen are not allowed cars. No dormitory hours for men, honor code for junior and senior women, modified curfew for freshman and sophomore women.

ANNUAL EXPENSES. Tuition and fees: $1,950. Room and board: $1,200. Other expenses: $700.

FINANCIAL AID. Aid offered: Grants, loans, jobs. NDSL, EOG, CWSP, Cuban Student Loan Program. 900 accepted freshman applicants were judged to have need, 150 of these were offered aid, 10 of these were offered the full amounts they were estimated to need. Basis for selection: Academic promise considered in selection. Amount of aid determined by recipients' financial need. Awards renewed annually as long as student maintains satisfactory record and continues to have financial need. Minority or poverty-level income applicants receive consideration for the aid they qualify for. Application procedures: Closing date for applications January 1, applicants notified of decisions February 15-March 15, recipients of aid offers must reply within 10 days. PCS required. Transfer students: Previous recipients of federal aid have their aid renewed before commitments to other transfers; application process the same as for incoming freshmen; very limited amount of aid available for transfer students. Additional information: Students should apply for financial aid and admissions at the same time; admissions decisions not affected by application for financial aid; students are encouraged to apply early to assure that all information is available by our deadline dates.

Competition keen since scholarship funds never sufficient. Aid ranges from several hundred dollars to full fees according to need on PCS. Work not presently part of package award but may become so. Awards for upperclassmen renewed annually if recipient maintains satisfactory record and need continues. Students should expect to assume greater personal financial responsibility as earning and borrowing power increases. Loan and work opportunities available for all students with need. Freshmen who enter without being granted the scholarships they need, make considerable use of these forms of aid; may apply for junior and senior awards although not for sophomore scholarships. Considerable assistance provided to applicants from minority/poverty groups. Application procedures: Closing date for applications January 15, applicants notified of decisions mid-April, recipients of aid offers must reply beginning May 1. PCS and college forms required. Transfer students: Transfer applicants eligible to apply for aid. Competition keen. File aid application with college and PCS by February 15. Notification mid-April.

Northern Essex Community College
Haverhill, Massachusetts

Two-year public community college for men and women. Undergraduates: 1,373 men, 970 women. Calendar: Semester, summer session. Location: Small city 34 miles from Boston. Special features: College offers degree programs based on 3 concepts: that people have different abilities, needs, desires, and interests; that their educational needs vary as they continue through life; and that these educational needs must be met by varying kinds of programs.

CURRICULUM. Undergraduate degrees offered: Associate. Fields of study: Business and commerce (accounting, business management and administration, secretarial studies–legal, medical, technical, executive), computer science and systems analysis (computer science), engineering (engineering sciences), health and medical professions (nursing–registered, radiology and x-ray technology), social sciences (police science–Division of Continuing Education), trade and vocational (child care, civil technology, electronic technology, inhalation therapy technology and certificate programs, medical record technology, banking–Division of Continuing Education). Special programs: Independent study. Programs for students from minorities or low-income families: Discovery program – a one-semester program for the disadvantaged combining developmental work in mathematics, reading, and English with a course in humanities. Liberal financial assistance is available. Required freshman courses: English composition. Tests used for counseling, placement, or credit: SAT and ACH in English composition used for counseling. Academic regulations: To remain in good standing a student must have a 1.50 average (on a 4-point scale) at the end of first semester and a 1.75 average at the end of second semester.

ADMISSIONS. Admissions requirements: SAT and ACH in English composition by July of senior year. Applicants who have been out of school for a period of time and applicants to secretarial programs need not present the SAT with application. Prerequisites for admission vary greatly from program to program. They range from 12 or more college preparatory units for liberal arts admission to enough college preparatory units to have prepared the applicant to succeed in liberal arts courses required in a specific program. Basis for selection: Applicants for an associate degree program must be high school graduates or equivalent. Beyond that basic requirement, admission to a particular program depends upon the degree of readiness in terms of prerequisites and motivation as indicated by the quality of the high school record. Disadvantaged students are considered for the discovery program. Middle 50% of applicants accepted for admission had SAT-verbal scores between 350 and 450 and SAT-mathematical scores between 400 and 550. Application fee: $10. Application procedures: Closing date for applications August 31 for fall and January 25 for spring; applicants notified of decisions on rolling basis. Transfer applicants: About 125 apply annually, and 110 are accepted. Apply by August 31 for fall term, January 25 for spring term. Other requirements and procedures: Official transcripts from college previously attended are required before transfer credit may be granted. Transfer students are welcome. Transfer credit will be granted for courses in which C or better grades were achieved if the course is relevant to the program into which the student is admitted and if the courses were taken at an accredited college. Additional information: The student population at this college has a wide range of ability and interests. The college is interested in providing an opportunity to attend college to every person who is strongly motivated to do so.

STUDENT LIFE. Freshman class: 95% from Massachusetts, 100% commute, between .05 and 1% from minority backgrounds. Middle 50% of enrolled freshmen have SAT-verbal scores between 350 and 450 and SAT-mathematical scores between 400 and 550. Programs undergraduates choose: Liberal arts 57%, engineering (including electronic technology) 3%, business (including secretarial studies) 25%, health services 7%. Student activities: Student government, student newspaper, magazine, yearbook, drama, Social Action Club (concentrates on social issues and community involvement in problem solving), other clubs of many orientations from academic (for example, languages) to activities (such as cheerleading). Athletics: Basketball, cross-country-M, football (touch)-M, golf-M, table tennis, tennis-M. Student services: Counseling. Additional information: Students are eligible to participate in the Student Council and the Academic Council. They may become, and are represented by, class officers. One student is elected to serve as Student Advisory Commissioner to the Massachusetts Regional Board of Community Colleges.

ANNUAL EXPENSES. Tuition and fees: $137.50 per semester; out-of-state students $287.50 per semester (unless they qualify for New England Regional Student Program, which allows same payment as residents). Other expenses: $100 to $125 per year for books.

FINANCIAL AID. Aid offered: Northern Essex Community College Faculty Association Scholarships (available second semester only), NDSL, EOG, CWSP, Nursing Student Loans, Nursing Scholarships, Law Enforcement Education Program. Basis for selection: Awards are given to students with lowest parental contribution first. Academic qualifications are not considered at all. Special grants for disadvantaged students. Application procedures: Closing date for applications July 1, applicants notified of decisions by August 15, recipients of aid offers must reply by September 1. PCS required. Transfer students: Transfer applicants treated the same as freshmen.

Radcliffe College, Cambridge, Massachusetts

Four-year private nonsectarian liberal arts college for women. Undergraduates: 1,300 women. Calendar: Semester, summer session. Location: Metropolitan area, 4 miles from Boston. Special features: Radcliffe is the women's undergraduate college associated with Harvard. The college has no faculty of its own; the Harvard faculty is also Radcliffe's, and the students are granted a Harvard degree on completion of their undergraduate studies.

CURRICULUM. Undergraduate degrees offered: Bachelor. Fields of study: Art (art history, graphic arts), biological sciences (biochemistry, biology, botany, physiology, zoology), education (general), engineering (engineering sciences), English and literature (English), ethnic studies (black or Afro-American), foreign languages (Classical languages, Eastern languages, French, German, Italian, linguistics, Russian, Spanish), history and cultures (American, ancient, area and regional, European), mathematics (statistics), music (composition and theory, music history), philosophy and religion (philosophy, scholastic philosophy), physical sciences (astronomy, chemistry, geology, physical sciences, physics), psychology, social sciences (anthropology, economics, political science, sociology), visual and environmental studies. Special programs: Accelerated program, honors program, independent study, 3-2 liberal arts and engineering combination. Required freshman courses: English composition. Tests used for counseling, placement, or credit: Placement, credit, or both will sometimes be given on basis of Advanced Placement Examinations. Academic regulations: The requirements for a satisfactory record are no more than one D grade in any term and passing grades in all courses. 95% or better of freshmen complete the year in good academic standing.

ADMISSIONS. Applications in 1971: 2,482 women applied, 424 were accepted. Admissions requirements: SAT by January of senior year. Any 3 ACH. No specific course or unit requirements for admission. Interview recommended. Basis for selection: Although Radcliffe assumes a high degree of intellectual ability and promise in its candidates, other qualities are considered of major importance in determining the final choices. Personal integrity, a good sense of social responsibility, the ability to work independently, and the stamina to carry out a demanding college program are major factors in deciding a candidate's eligibility. Also important are other qualities, more difficult to define, such as liveliness of mind, breadth of interests, and flexibility of temperament; these suggest the applicant's potential effectiveness as a social being. Stability and maturity are essential qualities in a complex university environment where considerable freedom is given to students, and where a great deal of responsibility for making wise decisions is expected of them. Beyond these criteria, Radcliffe hopes that the freshman class each year will be sufficiently diverse in background and interests to provide a stimulating and intellectual environment; for this reason, the college encourages applications from a wide range of well-qualified students. Application fee: $15, may be waived for applicants with financial need. Application procedures: Closing date for applications January 1, applicants notified of decisions by mid-April, accepted applicants must reply beginning May 1. CRDA. Transfer applicants: About 500 apply annually, and 50 are accepted. Apply by March 15 for fall term. Each year Radcliffe admits from other 4-year colleges and junior colleges a limited number of transfer students who have made outstanding records in their own colleges and who have a strong academic reason for wanting to attend Radcliffe. The competition is rigorous and only women who are particularly well qualified are selected. Transfer candidates are considered for admission once a year, in mid-June, for entrance the following September. Only students who have completed or who will have completed at least one full year of academic work at another college will be considered for admission as transfer students. A minimum of two full years of residence is required for recommendation for the Bachelor's degree.

STUDENT LIFE. Freshman class: 340 women. 16% from Massachusetts, 100% live on campus, 12% from minority backgrounds. The range of SAT scores can be very great; the median scores for the class of 1975 are verbal 696, and mathematical 669, but these scores should not be interpreted too literally. Programs undergraduates choose: Liberal arts 100%. Student activities: Student government, student newspaper, magazine, yearbook, radio, religious organizations, drama, musical theater, dance, symphony orchestra, marching band, concert band, political organizations, ethnic organizations, social service organizations. Athletics: Basketball, fencing, field hockey, gymnastics, lacrosse, rowing (crew), sailing, skiing, soccer, softball, squash, swimming and diving, tennis, track and field, water polo, karate, riding, yoga. Student services: Counseling, health services, student employment service for undergraduates, placement service for graduates and alumni. Regulations: All Radcliffe houses and those at Harvard are co-residential. Freshmen are assigned to one of the three houses in the Radcliffe Quadrangle. By the sophomore year they choose a house for the next three years at either Radcliffe or Harvard.

ANNUAL EXPENSES. Tuition and fees: $2,800. Room and board: $1,670. Other expenses: $600.

FINANCIAL AID. Aid offered: Grants, loans, jobs. NDSL, EOG, CWSP. 143 accepted freshman applicants were judged to have need, all of these were offered aid in the full amounts they were estimated to need. Basis for selection: Awards are based solely on financial need, defined as the difference between the average resident student budget and the student's total resources. A student's resources could include an amount expected from summer and part-time earnings, a portion of her savings, and her parent's contribution. The parent's contribution is estimated upon a review of the total family situation. Application procedures: Closing date for applications January 15, applicants notified of decisions by mid-April, recipients of aid offers must reply beginning May 1. PCS required. Transfer students: Financial assistance is offered to transfer students. Awards are based on financial need. Requirements and procedures are similar to those for freshman applicants. Transfer students must file a PCS and a college financial aid application before their award can be determined. Additional information: Each student is offered a long-term loan as a portion of her award. The student also bears some financial responsibility for her education through summer and part-time employment.

Simon's Rock, Great Barrington, Massachusetts

Four-year private nonsectarian liberal arts "early" college for men and women. Undergraduates: 61 men, 166 women. Calendar: 4-1-4. Location: Small town in suburban community 70 miles from Albany, New York, Springfield, Massachusetts, and Hartford, Connecticut. Special features: The college opened in 1966. It is an "early" college for young adults who have successfully completed the tenth, eleventh, or twelfth year of secondary school. A four-year curriculum in liberal arts follows the tenth grade, confers an Associate in Arts degree, and transfers graduates to the junior year of college.

CURRICULUM. Undergraduate degrees offered: Associate. Fields of study: Architecture, art (history, design, graphic arts, photography, printing, studio), biological sciences (biology, ecology), communications (journalism), computer science and systems analysis, education (child development and nursery, elementary, music), English and literature (creative writing, English), ethnic studies (black or Afro-American), foreign languages (Classical, French, Russian, Spanish), history and cultures (American), mathematics (statistics), music (composition and theory, instrumental, history, voice), philosophy and religion (philosophy), physical sciences (chemistry, physical sciences, physics), psychology (general, social), social sciences (anthropology, political science), theater arts (dance, drama, theater arts). Special programs: Honors program, independent study, study abroad (France and Spain winter term). Programs for students from minorities or low-income families: Special counselor. Required freshman courses: English composition, history or social studies, science. (These courses not necessarily required but may be prerequisite for other courses.) Tests used for counseling, placement, or credit: Placement, credit, or both will sometimes be given on basis of Advanced Placement Examinations. Credit will generally be given on basis of CLEP General and Subject Examinations. No maximum on number of hours of credit by examination that may be counted toward degree. Depends on individual. Academic regulations: To be in good academic standing at the end of a given term a student must pass at least 9 credits and maintain the following minimum grade-point averages (on a 4-point scale): Class I—first semester 1.7, second semester 1.8; Class II—first semester 1.9, second semester 2.0; Classes III and IV—semester averages of at least 1.8 and cumulative average of at least 2.0. Approximately 88% of Class I complete year in good standing.

ADMISSIONS. Applications in 1971: 81 men applied, 44 were accepted; 195 women applied, 106 were accepted. Admissions requirements: ACT or SAT by March (accepted but not required). Interview required. Basis for selection: Students selected on basis of strong academic record, test scores, interview, and recommendations. Social and intellectual maturity of great importance because of unique nature of program. Application fee: $25, may be waived for applicants with financial need. Transfer applicants: If course content at previous college can be matched to this college's curriculum credit is granted. Course must be from accredited institutions.

STUDENT LIFE. Freshman class: 15 men, 39 women. 20% from Massachusetts, 99% live on campus, 1% commute, 5% from minority backgrounds. Students have demonstrated ability to do college-level work. Programs undergraduates choose: Liberal arts 100%. Postgraduate studies: 60% of graduates enter 4-year programs. Student activities: Student government, television, film, drama, dance, chamber music. Athletics: Archery, baseball, basketball, cross-country, skiing, soccer, softball, swimming and diving, tennis. Student services: Counseling, health services, student employment service for undergraduates, placement service for graduates and alumni. Regulations: Community Council makes resident regulations; students may own and operate cars subject to state and campus regulations; fourth year students may live off campus on parents' responsibility. Additional information: The college program permits young men and women to begin their college education 2 years earlier than was possible heretofore. It takes account of the growing desire of young adults for active and responsible participation in the adult world at an earlier age. By completing their liberal studies two years ahead of the time permitted by the traditional high school and college sequences, students can sooner decide whether to go into specialized training or on toward graduate studies.

ANNUAL EXPENSES. Tuition and fees: $3,000. Room and board: $1,300.

FINANCIAL AID. Aid offered: Grants, jobs. NDSL, EOG, CWSP. 5 accepted freshman applicants were judged to have need, 5 of these were offered aid, 4 of these were offered the full amounts they were estimated to need. Basis for selection: While the award is given primarily on the basis of financial need, the past record of the student, both academic and nonacademic, is taken into consideration. The award of a grant need not be based upon outstanding scholarship, but the record of the student should indicate that he or she is willing and able to make some sort of contribution to the college community. In addition, the Committee on Grants and Scholarships is looking for students who will increase the diversity of the student body at the college. Application procedures: Closing date for applications April 1, applicants notified of decisions by May 15, recipients of aid offers must reply by June 1. PCS required. Transfer students: Special note is taken of the applicant's past record, possible potential, and ability to add diversity to the college. Additional information: A limited number of campus jobs are available through which students can earn some money.

STUDENT LIFE. Freshman class: 667 women. 15% from Massachusetts, 99% live on campus, 1% commute, 9% from minority backgrounds. Median scores of entering freshmen are SAT-verbal 642 and SAT-mathematics 628. 69% are in the first decile in class rank. Programs undergraduates choose: Liberal arts 100%. Postgraduate studies: 50% of graduates enter graduate or professional programs. Student activities: Student government (House Council, House of Representatives, Academic Honor Board, Judicial Board, Committee on Student Affairs), student newspaper, magazine, yearbook, radio, religious organizations (Christian Association, Hillel, Newman Club, Christian Science Organization), drama, dance, symphony orchestra, choirs, glee club, small singing groups, Young Democrats, Young Republicans, Black Students Alliance, social service organizations (tutorial programs, work with handicapped children and adults, community activities). Athletics: Archery, basketball, bowling, fencing, field hockey, golf, gymnastics, lacrosse, rowing (crew), sailing, skiing, soccer, softball, squash, swimming and diving, tennis, track and field, riding, dance, canoeing, volleyball, badminton. Student services: Counseling, health services, student employment service for undergraduates, placement service for graduates and alumni. Regulations: Dormitory residence required except for local students; each dormitory may designate its own rules within prescribed limits; upperclassmen in good academic standing may have cars. Additional information: Extensive series of lectures, concerts, art exhibits, social events, supplemented by activities at the other 4 institutions within 8 miles of Northampton. Total student enrollment in the area is 25,000.

ANNUAL EXPENSES. Comprehensive fee: $4,120. Other expenses: $450.

FINANCIAL AID. Aid offered: Grants, loans, jobs. NDSL, EOG, CWSP. 376 accepted freshman applicants were judged to have need, 255 of these were offered aid and in the full amounts they were estimated to need. Basis for selection: Applicant must prove need on basis of PCS. Preference is given to ablest and most highly motivated, as demonstrated by school record and other available information, and to those with a special skill or interest for whom our curriculum is well suited. There are no absolute standards or cut-off points. Each choice is made individually, particular attention being given to minority group students. The SAT and ACH scores are noted but are not of special significance as an academic qualification. Application procedures: Closing date for applications January 8 (November 8 for EDP-S), applicants notified of decisions by third Saturday in April (December 1 for EDP-S), recipients of aid offers must reply beginning May 1 (January 1 for EDP-S). PCS required. Transfer students: Transfer applicants must prove need in same manner as freshmen. Students entering from 2-year colleges have preference in the distribution of the limited funds available. Student loans are offered to all applicants with proven need. Additional information: The package offer contains only grants and loans, never campus jobs. A student with need below $600 will be offered loan funds rather than a grant.

Southeastern Massachusetts University
North Dartmouth, Massachusetts

Four-year public university for men and women. Undergraduates: 2,107 men, 1,336 women. Graduates: 51 men, 21 women. Calendar: Semester, summer session. Location: Small town 8 miles from New Bedford, Massachusetts.

CURRICULUM. Undergraduate degrees offered: Bachelor. Fields of study: Art (design, graphic arts, studio art), biological sciences (biology, marine biology), business and commerce (accounting, business management and administration, finance, industrial management, marketing), education (art, elementary, secondary), engineering (civil, electrical, mechanical), English and literature (English), foreign languages (French, German, Portuguese, Spanish), health and medical professions (medical technology, nursing-registered), history and cultures (American, European), mathematics, philosophy and religion (philosophy), physical sciences (chemistry, physics), psychology (general), social sciences (economics, political science, sociology), textile chemistry, textile technology, textile design, engineering technology (civil, electrical, mechanical), ocean engineering. Programs for students from minorities or low-income families: Special counselor, tutoring, remedial instruction, reduced course load. Required freshman courses: English composition. Tests used for counseling, placement, or credit: Placement, credit, or both will generally be given for grades of 3 and higher in Advanced Placement Examinations. Credit will generally be given on basis of CLEP General and Subject Examinations. Maximum of 60 semester hours of credit by examination may be counted toward degree. Academic regulations: Grade-point average of 2.00 required for freshmen to continue in good standing. 75% of freshmen complete year in good standing. Graduate programs: Biological sciences, fine and applied arts, mathematics, physical sciences, textile chemistry, textile technology.

ADMISSIONS. Applications in 1971: 2,981 men and women applied, 1,292 were accepted. Admissions requirements: SAT by March of senior year. Various ACH tests required, depending on program applied for, also by March of senior year. High school English 4 units, social studies 2, foreign language 2, mathematics 2, science 1. Mathematics, science, and foreign language requirements vary with programs. Basis for selection: Applicants are assessed on the following factors: secondary school record, rank in class, endorsement of teachers and counselors, and SAT and ACH scores. Class rank is reviewed carefully and compared with an applicant's record and courses included in his program. Special consideration is given to those whose rank has been affected by enriched or accelerated programs. The school record is the single most reliable factor in predicting a student's future academic success. Emphasis is placed upon the school's recommendations. It is expected that an applicant's test results will be commensurate with his school record; experience dictates that students with good test results but poor records are generally poor academic risks. Disadvantaged students are admitted even with some deficiencies in preparation. Middle 50% of applicants accepted for admission had SAT-verbal scores between 431 and 550 and SAT-mathematical scores between 472 and 591. Application fee: None. Application procedures: No formal deadline for application but accepted on a rolling admissions basis until all spaces are allocated, applicants notified of decisions soon after completion of application, accepted applicants must reply within 30 days, but deposit is refundable until June 15. Transfer applicants: About 1,500 apply annually, and 500 are accepted. Apply by early spring for fall term. Procedure similar to that for freshmen. Official SAT reports, transcripts, and recommendations required. Qualified candidates are accepted for advanced standing from approved institutions. In general up to 90 semester hours of C or better course work can be transferred.

STUDENT LIFE. Freshman class: 550 men, 450 women. 95% from Massachusetts, 9% live on campus, 91% commute (but beginning in the fall of 1973 15% will live on campus), 7% from minority backgrounds. Middle 50% of enrolled freshmen have SAT-verbal scores between 421 and 539 and SAT-mathematical scores between 458 and 577. Programs undergraduates choose: Liberal arts 40%, engineering 13%, business 17%, fine arts 11%, health services 5%, biology 9%. Postgraduate studies: 10% of graduates enter graduate or professional programs. Student activities: Student government, student newspaper, magazine, yearbook, radio, religious organizations, drama, symphony orchestra, concert band, social service organizations, fraternities, sororities. Athletics: Archery-W, baseball-M, basketball, cross-country-M, fencing-W, field hockey-W, golf-M, soccer-M, softball-M, swimming and diving, tennis, track and field-M. Student services: Counseling, health services, student employment service for undergraduates, placement service for graduates and alumni.

ANNUAL EXPENSES. Tuition and fees: $320; for students from out-of-state $720. Room and board: $1,500.

FINANCIAL AID. Aid offered: Grants, loans, jobs. NDSL, EOG, CWSP, Nursing Student Loan Program, Nursing Student Scholarship Program. 202 accepted freshman applicants were judged to have need, 168 of these were offered aid, 150 of these were offered the full amounts they were estimated to need. Basis for selection: Awards are based on applicant's need. Academic qualifications are considered in distribution of some funds. Special consideration for poverty-level families. Application procedures: No formal closing date for applications, applicants notified of decisions in early summer, recipients of aid offers must reply no earlier than May 1. PCS required. Transfer students: Eligible for all types of aid. Same procedures as for freshmen.

All undergraduates live on campus unless a commuter, senior, or married student.

ANNUAL EXPENSES. Tuition and fees: $2,200. Room and board: $1,063.

FINANCIAL AID. Aid offered: Grants, loans, jobs. NDSL, EOG, CWSP. 240 accepted freshman applicants were judged to have need, 114 of these were offered aid, 6 of these were offered the full amounts they were estimated to need. Basis for selection: Evaluation of high school record, SAT scores, co-curricular activities, and personal references. Awards are made consistent with financial need of applicant. Annual renewal upon application depends on applicant's good academic standing, good representation of and for the college, and financial need. Application procedures: Closing date for applications March 1, applicants notified of decisions no later than mid-April, recipients of aid offers must reply beginning May 1. PCS required. Transfer students: Aid is available. Same procedures as for freshmen.

Stonehill College, North Easton, Massachusetts

Four-year Roman Catholic liberal arts college for men and women. Undergraduates: 853 men, 738 women. Graduates: 2,027 men, 988 women. Calendar: Semester. Location: Small town 20 miles from Boston. Special features: The campus, with 550 acres of landscaped grounds and woodlands, has three small ponds that add to the quiet beauty of the setting. Georgian architecture dominates the campus including the new administrative wing which provides individual offices for each full-time faculty member, easily accessible to students. Dormitories are supplemented by "Towne Houses," for upperclassmen, which house 12 students each in a personalized approach to living on campus.

CURRICULUM. Undergraduate degrees offered: Bachelor. Fields of study: Biological sciences (biology), business and commerce (accounting, industrial management, marketing), education (child development and nursery), English and literature (English), foreign languages (French, Spanish), health and medical professions (medical technology), history and cultures, mathematics, philosophy and religion (philosophy, religion, scholastic philosophy), physical sciences (chemistry, physical sciences), psychology (child), social sciences (economics, political science, sociology). Special programs: Honors program, independent study, study abroad (junior year), pass-fail courses, seminar classes, study at other colleges, an overall graduation average which does not include freshmen grades, education (fulfills certification requirements for elementary and secondary teaching). Programs for students from minorities or low-income families: Reduced course load. Required freshman courses: There are five options open to freshmen unless they are in science or business. In these latter cases, specific courses are outlined, but some of the options can be fulfilled in the sophomore year. The curriculum is designed to provide each student with the opportunity and flexibility to tailor his own education, within the confines of what is best in liberal arts education. The options are: philosophy and religious studies; mathematics or natural science; social science; literature; language, creative arts, behavioral science. Tests used for counseling, placement, or credit: ACH, for placement. Placement, credit, or both will generally be given for grades of 3 and higher in Advanced Placement Examinations. Credit will generally be given on basis of CLEP General Examinations. Maximum of 30 semester hours of credit by examination may be counted toward degree. Another test used for counseling is the Strong Vocational Interest Blank. Academic regulations: A freshman will be placed on academic probation if his grade-point average falls below 1.75 at the end of the second semester. Only 2% of all freshmen do not complete freshman year because of academic difficulty.

ADMISSIONS. Applications in 1971: 1,230 men applied, 632 were accepted; 1,096 women applied, 673 were accepted. Admissions requirements: SAT by March of senior year. ACH tests are used for placement purposes in the freshman class, not as part of the admissions requirements. They are particularly helpful for those students who intend to pursue language or mathematics courses in their freshman year. Other ACH tests may be taken in subject areas of particular interest to the student who may wish to submit these results for consideration by departments of the college. High school English 4 units, social studies 1 (history), foreign language 2, mathematics 2 (3 or 4 units are preferred), science 1. Interview recommended. Basis for selection: The candidate's class rank and high school achievement are the most significant factors in the admissions decision; thus the applicant who possessed a high school average of B— and a score of at least 500 in both the SAT verbal and mathematical, and whose class rank was in the top half would have a good chance of acceptance. Special attention is being given to recruitment and aid to disadvantaged. Geographic distribution is sought. Middle 50% of applicants accepted for admission had SAT-verbal scores between 520 and 540 and SAT-mathematical scores between 530 and 560. Application fee: $15, may be waived for applicants with financial need. Application procedures: Closing date for applications February 1 for residents, May 1 preferably for commuters, applicants notified of decisions on basis of rolling admissions beginning December 1. All candidates accepted prior to February 8 must reply by March 1, all others have 3 weeks to reply. Transfer applicants: About 100 apply annually, and 50 are accepted. Apply by June 1 for fall term. Average of C or better required in college courses plus letter or recommendation from Dean of college previously attended. Candidates should submit SAT scores and high school transcript. Notification as soon as credentials completed. Additional information: There is an Early Decision Plan with a closing date of November 1. Preferred test dates for SAT are March to November of senior year. Applicants must be top third of class, and have at least 550 on verbal and mathematical SAT.

STUDENT LIFE. Freshman class: 243 men, 222 women. 60% from Massachusetts, 67% live on campus, 33% commute, 1% from minority backgrounds. Middle 50% of enrolled freshmen have SAT-verbal scores between 520 and 540 and SAT-mathematical scores between 545 and 565. Programs undergraduates choose: Liberal arts 75%, business 15%, science 10%. Postgraduate studies: 30% of graduates enter graduate or professional programs. Student activities: Student government (students have voice in academic policy of the college through membership on college council, academic committees and various other faculty and administrative councils), student newspaper, magazine, yearbook, radio, religious organizations (the Confraternity of Christian Doctrine works specifically with retarded children, Christians for Student Activities and Young Christian Students seek to influence Christian life and culture on campus), drama, political organizations (Young Democrats, R.F.K. Society wishes to carry out the concern that Robert F. Kennedy had for disadvantaged children), social service organizations (Purple Key Society, Donataire Society, Crosier Club). Athletics: Baseball-M, basketball, cross-country-M, field hockey-W, football-M, golf-M, ice hockey-M, sailing, skiing, soccer-M, softball, swimming and diving, tennis, horseback riding. Student services: Counseling, health services, student employment service for undergraduates, placement service for graduates and alumni. Regulations: All students may have automobiles on campus. Upperclassmen may live off campus. Religious obligations are personal responsibility of student. Most students feel that the rules and regulations governing student behavior on campus are sensible. The vast majority of students feel the faculty is genuinely interested in teaching; available for out-of-class consultation, and interested in students as individuals. As a rule they believe their greatest asset is their contact with each other and the teaching faculty.

ANNUAL EXPENSES. Tuition and fees: $1,900. Room and board: $1,175. Other expenses: $300.

FINANCIAL AID. Aid offered: Grants, loans, jobs. NDSL, EOG, CWSP. 400 accepted freshman applicants were judged to have need, 200 of these were offered aid, 90 of these were offered the full amounts they were estimated to need. Basis for selection: All acceptable students are considered for aid based on need; scholarships are very competitive based on need and ability. Stronger candidates with financial need will receive prior consideration. Special scholarship funds are available to needy Black students. Admissions decisions not affected by application for financial aid. Application procedures: Closing date for applications January 1, applicants notified of decisions by April 1. PCS required. Transfer students: Transfer students may apply for all types of aid but in general only NDSL funds are available to them. Scholarship and work-study programs are available after one semester. Additional information: The Higher Education Loan Plan, the Tuition Aid Program, and the College Aid Plan are alternate programs which should be investigated also.

CURRICULUM. Undergraduate degrees offered: Bachelor. Fields of study: Architecture (urban development), art (art history), biological sciences (bacteriology, biochemistry, biology, botany, ecology, physiology, zoology), computer science and systems analysis (computer science), education (art, child development and nursery, elementary, general, secondary), engineering (chemical, civil, construction and transportation, drafting, electrical, engineering design, engineering sciences, industrial and management, mechanical), English and literature (creative writing, English, literature), foreign languages (Classical languages, French, German, Italian, linguistics, Russian, Spanish), history and cultures (American, ancient, area and regional, European), mathematics, music (composition and theory, instrumental music, music history, voice), philosophy and religion (philosophy, religion), physical sciences (astronomy, chemistry, earth science, geology, physical sciences, physics), psychology (child, experimental, general, social), social sciences (economics, international relations, political science, sociology), theater arts (dance, drama, theater arts). Special programs: Honors program, independent study, study abroad (Tufts in London for theater, Tufts in Paris, Tufts in Tubingen, Tufts in Mexico), 3-2 liberal arts and engineering combination, combined bachelor-master program, College Within, experimental college, winter term, unified science study program. Programs for students from minorities or low-income families: Special counselor, tutoring. Tests used for counseling, placement, or credit: Placement, credit, or both will sometimes be given on basis of Advanced Placement Examinations. Academic regulations: Satisfactory progress toward a degree is determined on an individual basis. In recent years, no freshman and less than 1% of all enrolled undergraduates have been required to withdraw. Graduate programs: Biological sciences, computer science and systems analysis, education, engineering, English and journalism, fine and applied arts, foreign language and literature, health professions, mathematics, philosophy, physical sciences, psychology, social sciences, international affairs. Additional information: In both liberal arts and engineering, students are encouraged to plan their own programs drawn from the full array of courses, ranging from traditional to experimental, that form the curriculums of the 2 colleges.

ADMISSIONS. Applications in 1971: 4,437 men applied, 1,096 were accepted. Admissions requirements: SAT by January of senior year. ACH, as appropriate for the intended major field. Engineering candidates must submit ACH in English, mathematics, and either physics or chemistry. High school English 4 units, social studies 2, foreign language 3 or 4, mathematics 3 or 4, science 2. Although no specific preparation is required and students are admitted with divergent credentials, this listing of units reflects the usual secondary school experience of enrolled students. Basis for selection: Secondary school records, ACH and SAT scores, in that order, are the most effective predictors of academic success. Significant involvement in school and community affairs, special talents, and evidence of personal resourcefulness and originality are sought. Applicants of high promise from minorities are seriously considered in spite of deficiencies in grades and scores. Middle 50% of applicants accepted for admission in liberal arts had SAT-verbal scores between 590 and 700 and SAT-mathematical scores between 600 and 710; those accepted in engineering had SAT-verbal scores between 520 and 610 and SAT-mathematical scores between 630 and 730. Application fee: $20, may be waived for applicants with financial need. Application procedures: Closing date for applications February 1, applicants notified of decisions April 15, accepted applicants must reply beginning May 1. CRDA. EDP-F. Transfer applicants: About 700 apply annually, and 80 are accepted. Apply by March 1 for fall term. More than half the transfer students enroll initially in the second semester; applications for this term close December 1. College transcripts and regular freshman credentials required. Credit given for grades of C or higher in previous courses. Additional information: Accepted applicants, with approval from the university, may defer entrance for one semester or for one year. Well qualified and mature students may be admitted after junior year or in middle of senior year of high school.

STUDENT LIFE. Freshman class: 500 men. 30% from Massachusetts, 90% live on campus, 10% commute, 11% from minority backgrounds. Middle 50% of enrolled freshmen in liberal arts have SAT-verbal scores between 580 and 680 and SAT-mathematical scores between 600 and 710; those in engineering have SAT-verbal scores between 500 and 600 and SAT-mathematical scores between 620 and 720. Programs undergraduates choose: Liberal arts 70%, engineering 30%. Postgraduate studies: 65% of graduates enter graduate or professional programs. Student activities: Student government (students have equal representation on most standing committees of the faculty, make dormitory regulations, and control the financing of all student organizations), student newspaper, magazine, yearbook, radio, religious organizations (Protestant, Catholic, and Jewish), drama, musical theater, dance, symphony orchestra, marching band, concert band, chorus, wind ensemble, concert jazz band, political organizations, Afro-American Society, Puerto Rican Student Union, social service organizations (the Leonard Carmichael Society is a large, active channel for a comprehensive array of community service activities), fraternities. Athletics: Sports available to men are baseball, basketball, cross-country, football, golf, gymnastics, ice hockey, lacrosse, rifle, rugby, sailing, skiing, soccer, softball, squash, swimming and diving, tennis, track and field, water polo, wrestling. Student services: Counseling, health services, student employment service for undergraduates, placement service for graduates and alumni. Regulations: Unless residing in their own homes freshmen and sophomores must live in dormitories; residential freshmen may not operate automobiles. Other than federal and state law and safety regulations, all residential rules are made by students in "autonomous" dormitories.

ANNUAL EXPENSES. Tuition and fees: $3,050. Room and board: $1,470. Other expenses: $300.

FINANCIAL AID. Aid offered: Grants, loans, jobs. NDSL, EOG, CWSP. Basis for selection: Financial need is the primary consideration. More than 35% of total aid available is awarded to candidates from minority backgrounds. Application procedures: Closing date for applications February 1, applicants notified of decisions April 15, recipients of aid offers must reply beginning May 1. PCS required. Transfer students: Although transfer applicants are as eligible for full financial aid as are freshmen, in practice, proportionately fewer awards are made to entering transfer students.

Wellesley College, Wellesley, Massachusetts

Four-year private nonsectarian liberal arts college for women. Undergraduates: 1,750 women. Calendar: Semester. Location: Suburban community 12 miles from Boston. Special features: Member of Twelve-College Exchange Program. Cross registration program with Massachusetts Institute of Technology (partially residential, partially by busing).

CURRICULUM. Undergraduate degrees offered: Bachelor. Fields of study: Art (history, studio art), biological sciences (biochemistry, biology, botany, ecology), education (child development and nursery, secondary), English and literature (creative writing, literature), ethnic studies (black or Afro-American), foreign languages (Classical, Eastern, French, German, Italian, Russian, Spanish), history and cultures (American, ancient, European), mathematics, music (composition and theory, history), philosophy and religion (philosophy, religion), physical sciences (astronomy, chemistry, geology, physics), psychology (child, experimental, general, social), social sciences (anthropology, economics, international relations, political science, sociology), theater arts. Special programs: Honors program, independent study, study abroad (Florence, Geneva, Munich, Paris, Rome, through Smith, Sweetbriar, Wayne State). Programs for students from minorities or low-income families: Special counselor, tutoring, remedial instruction. Required freshman courses: Physical education. Tests used for counseling, placement, or credit: Placement, credit, or both will generally be given for grades of 4 and 5 in Advanced Placement Examinations. Academic regulations: Fewer than 1% of students leave for academic reasons. No one is asked to leave until second semester of sophomore year; then because of average below C. Additional information: Individual majors; interdepartmental majors; flexible course loads (3, 4, or 5 courses each semester); unlimited optional credit/no credit grading system as well as traditional grading system.

ADMISSIONS. Applications in 1971: 1,790 women applied. 730 were accepted. Admissions requirements: SAT and ACH by January of senior year. ACH required in English composition and 2 of following fields: foreign languages, social studies, mathematics, or science. High school English 4 units, social studies 1, foreign language 4, mathematics 3, science 1. Interview required. Basis for selection: A board of admission comprised of faculty, administrators, and students evaluates with care and sensitivity the following factors about a candidate: high school record; rank in class; SAT, ACH, and IQ test records; letters of recommendation from teachers and principal; student's own personal statement; and reports of staff, alumnae, and student interviewers. In the case of equally qualified applicants some preference will be given to alumnae daughters. Application fee: $15, may be waived for applicants with financial need (signed statement from counselor or other school official required). Application procedures: Closing date for applications January 1, applicants notified of decisions by April 15, accepted applicants must reply by May 1. CRDA. EDP-S. Transfer applicants: About 350 apply annually, and 85 are accepted. Apply by February 1 for fall term. Other requirements and procedures: recommendations from dean and 2 teachers; high school and college transcripts. SAT scores required, ACH scores recommended. Competition very keen: student should be of dean's list caliber or better; credit given for C or better at an accredited institution.

STUDENT LIFE. Freshman class: 466 women. 10-15% from Massachusetts, 99% live on campus, 1% commute, 9% from minority backgrounds. Middle 50% of enrolled freshmen have SAT-verbal scores between 600 and 710 and SAT-mathematical scores between 600 and 700. 90% of freshmen were in top 20% of high school graduating class. Programs undergraduates choose: Liberal arts 100%. Postgraduate studies: 60% of graduates enter graduate or professional programs. Student activities: Student government, student newspaper, magazine, yearbook, radio, religious organizations (Hillel, Newman, Canterbury, Wellesley Christian Fellowship), drama, opera or musical theater, dance, symphony orchestra, political organizations (Young Democrats, Young Republicans), ETHOS (black group), MECHA (Boston area Mexican American group), social service organizations (EB-Well Program for academic and volunteer work in East Boston, Service Organization for all other social service efforts). Athletics: Archery, basketball, canoeing, fencing, field hockey, golf, gymnastics, ice skating, lacrosse, rowing (crew), sailing, scuba diving, skiing, softball, squash, swimming and diving, tennis. Student services: Counseling, health services, student employment service for undergraduates, placement service for graduates and alumni. Regulations: 24-hour parietals for all upperclassmen and for freshmen after first 6 weeks. Sophomores, juniors, and seniors may have cars and may live off-campus.

ANNUAL EXPENSES. Comprehensive fee: $3,950. Other expenses: $600.

FINANCIAL AID. Aid offered: Grants, loans, jobs. NDSL, EOG, CWSP. 258 accepted freshman applicants were judged to have need, 171 of these were offered aid, 171 of these were offered the full amounts they were estimated to need. Basis for selection: Need and merit. Application procedures: Closing date for applications January 1, applicants notified of decisions by April 15, recipients of aid offers must reply by May 1. PCS required. College's own financial aid form also required. Transfer students: A very limited amount of financial aid is available. It is administered in the same manner as that for freshmen.

Wentworth College of Technology
Boston, Massachusetts

Two-year upper division private nonsectarian college of engineering technology for men. Undergraduates: 254 men. Calendar: Semester. Location: Large city.

CURRICULUM. Undergraduate degrees offered: Bachelor. Fields of study: Engineering technology (architectural, civil, electronical, management, mechanical). Additional information: This is an upper division college of engineering technology granting a Bachelor of Science degree and preparing students for careers in applied engineering rather than engineering science. The practical approach is emphasized over theoretical.

ADMISSIONS. Applications in 1971: 205 men applied, 193 were accepted. Admissions requirements: Must be graduate of accredited junior college or technical institute with an associate degree in engineering or the equivalent. Basis for selection: All Wentworth Institute graduates with Associate in Engineering degree are admitted. Graduates of other accredited two year colleges with equivalent educational background and 2.5 or better scholastic index admitted. Others with 2.0 or better scholastic index may be admitted as non-matriculating students who require 3 years to graduate. Special financial consideration given to applicants from minorities or low income families. Application fee: $10. Application procedures: Closing date for applications September 15, applicants notified of decisions immediately, accepted applicants must reply by May 5 or 2 weeks after acceptance, whichever is later. CRDA. Transfer applicants: About 200 apply annually, and 185 are accepted. Apply by August 15 for fall term. Must be graduate with Associate in Engineering degree, or equivalent, from junior college or technical institute, or successfully complete first 2 years of engineering curriculum. Wentworth Institute graduates with Associate in Engineering degree admitted with full credit. Graduates of other accredited junior colleges and technical institutes admitted if scholastic index is 2.5 or better. Others with index of 2.0 or better admitted as non-matriculating students. Credit given for courses taken in last 5 years where grade is C or better. Students admitted on non-matriculating basis only if they can matriculate in 1 year and graduate in 3 years.

STUDENT LIFE. Junior class: 159 men. 75% from Massachusetts, 20% live on campus, 65% commute, 3% from minority backgrounds. Programs undergraduates choose: Engineering technology 100%. Student activities: Student government, student newspaper, yearbook. Athletics: Archery, basketball, gymnastics, handball, softball, ping-pong, touch football, volleyball. Student services: Counseling, health services, student employment service for undergraduates, placement service for graduates and alumni.

ANNUAL EXPENSES. Tuition and fees: $1,720. Room and board: $1,200. Other expenses: $600.

FINANCIAL AID. Aid offered: Grants, NDSL, EOG, CWSP. 33 accepted junior applicants were judged to have need, 22 of these were offered aid, 10 of these were offered the full amounts they were estimated to need. Basis for selection: Financial aid decisions based on PCS with highest priority given to most needy students. Application procedures: Closing date for applications July 15, applicants notified of decisions by August 1, recipients of aid offers must reply by August 15. PCS required. Transfer students: All of our students are transfer students; therefore, the same requirements and procedures apply as if they were freshmen. PCS required, as well as application to college. Decision based on financial need with greatest need cases receiving top priority.

CORRESPONDENCE. Director of Student Personnel, Wentworth College of Technology, 30 Evans Way, Boston, Massachusetts 02115.

Wentworth Institute, Boston, Massachusetts

Two-year private nonsectarian technical institute for men. Undergraduates: 1,344 men. Calendar: Semester. Location: Metropolitan area. Special features: The objective of Wentworth Institute is to provide collegiate programs in which young men will obtain knowledge, skill, and understanding necessary to enable them to render competent and worthwhile service to society as engineering technicians or industrial technicians. The educational programs are 2-year full-time college-level programs in engineering technology and industrial technology. Graduation can lead to a life-time career, or be the basis for transferring with full credit to Wentworth College of Technology or with advanced standing to other senior colleges.

CURRICULUM. Undergraduate degrees offered: Associate. Fields of study: Engineering technology–advanced (aeronautical and space, architectural, civil and highway, electrical, electronic, materials, mechanical design, mechanical power, nuclear, production), engineering technology–standard (aeronautical, building construction, electronic, machine processes, mechanical design), industrial technology (aircraft maintenance, architectural-structural drafting, civil construction, electronic maintenance, mechanical drafting). Special programs: Graduates of engineering technology advanced courses may transfer directly into the junior year at the Wentworth College of Technology. Required freshman courses: English composition, social studies, literature, mathematics, science; other required courses in appropriate technical specialties to be taken in laboratories, drafting rooms, shops or field laboratories. Tests used for counseling, placement, or credit: Engineering and Physical Science Aptitude Test, SAT. Academic regulations: To be in good scholastic standing a student must have a grade-point average of 2.0 or better. Promotion and graduation require a cumulative 1.50 or better. Students whose academic record indicates below-standard work may be given scholastic warning, placed on probation, or withdrawn from the institute. 72% of freshmen complete the year in good academic standing. Additional information: The courses and conditions of study at Wentworth Institute have been planned for secondary school graduates who have demonstrated satisfactory achievement in English, mathematics and science, and whose interests and plans for the future encompass the world of science, engineering, and technology. Programs of study are offered in those fields of engineering designated as engineering technology and industrial technology. Engineering fundamentals that have been learned through classroom study are combined with appropriate laboratory, field, and drafting room experience. Students apply engineering theory to practical engineering problems and acquire skills and techniques by using, operating, and controlling equipment and instruments peculiar to their technology.

ADMISSIONS. Applications in 1970: 1,944 men applied, 1,620 were accepted. Admissions requirements: SAT recommended for counseling purposes but not required. High school English 4 units, mathematics at least 2, science 1. In advanced engineering technology 4 years mathematics and 1 year physics required. In standard engineering technology 3 years mathematics and 1 year physics usually required. Basis for selection: Primary consideration is given to secondary school preparation and achievement. In general, applicants should have completed a college preparatory program of study in which English, mathematics, and science were stressed with C grade or better achievement. Such preparation and achievement are evaluated in relation to the specific entrance requirements of engineering technology (advanced), engineering technology (standard), and industrial technology courses. In general, applicants rank in the second quarter of class. No special consideration is given to applicants who are children of alumni, foreign born, or from out-of-state. Application fee: $10. Application procedures: No closing date for applications, applicants notified of decisions on rolling admissions basis. Transfer applicants: Applicants who have successfully completed work in accredited colleges or technical institutes will be considered for admissions with advanced standing, on request for credit for such work. An official transcript of record from the college or technical institute must be submitted with the application for admission. Request for credit must be made for both first- and second-year subjects. Subsequent requests for credit will not be accepted. Credit will be granted only for work comparable to that offered at Wentworth if C grade or better was achieved. Applicants who have satisfactorily completed 2 years at an accredited engineering college may be considered for admission to the second year of a program in the same field of specialization as that at the previous college.

STUDENT LIFE. Freshman class: 800 men, 74% from Massachusetts, 24% live on campus, 75% commute. Enrolled freshmen have median SAT-verbal scores of 431, 388, and 356 in advanced engineering technology, standard engineering technology, and industrial technology, respectively. They have median SAT-mathematical scores of 516, 452, and 392, respectively, in the 3 courses of study listed above. Programs undergraduates choose: Engineering technology–advanced 47%, engineering technology–standard 34%, industrial technology 19%. Postgraduate studies: 45% of graduates enter 4-year programs. Student activities: Student council, national honor society, student newspaper, yearbook, radio. Athletics: Baseball, basketball, billiards, bowling, touch football, handball, karate, rifle, softball, table tennis, volleyball. Student services:

Counseling, health services, student employment service for undergraduates, placement service for graduates and alumni. Regulations: Possession or consumption of intoxicating beverages and the illegal possession, delivery, or consumption of drugs is prohibited. Violators of these regulations shall be expelled from the institute.

ANNUAL EXPENSES. Tuition and fees: $1,420. Room and board: $1,200. Other expenses: $480.

FINANCIAL AID. Aid offered: Loans, jobs, institute scholarships. NDSL, EOG, CWSP. 241 accepted freshman applicants were judged to have need, 152 of these were offered aid, 139 of these were offered the full amounts they were estimated to need. Basis for selection: Decisions made for those applicants accepted for admission solely on the basis of financial need. Decisions are not qualified by considerations such as rank in class, grades, or test scores. No differentiation is made between in-state and out-of-state students. Application procedures: Closing date for applications April 1, applicants notified of decisions by June 30, recipients of aid offers must reply by July 15. PCS required. Transfer students: The same policies governing financial aid apply to all students. Additional information: In addition to sources of financial aid available at Wentworth Institute, students and applicants accepted for admission are counseled about the general availability of other sources of financial aid (loan programs available through local banks) and the possible availability of local scholarships and grants through schools, service groups, veterans organizations.

CORRESPONDENCE. Charles P. Uppvall, Dean of Admission, or Carl W. Nickerson, Director of Financial Aid, Wentworth Institute, Boston, Massachusetts 02115.

CORRESPONDENCE. Director of Admission, or Financial Aid Officer, Wheaton College, Norton, Massachusetts 02766.

Wheelock College, Boston, Massachusetts

Four-year private nonsectarian teachers college for women (but men are eligible to enroll as well). Undergraduates: 2 men, 630 women. Graduates: 2 men, 111 women. Calendar: 3 terms of 12 weeks, 6 weeks, 12 weeks (4 courses, 2 courses, 4 courses). Location: Metropolitan area.

CURRICULUM. Undergraduate degrees offered: Bachelor. Fields of study: Education (child development and nursery, early childhood). Programs for students from minorities or low-income families: Special counselor. Required freshman courses: English composition, physical education, freshman study in 1 of 8 areas. Most required courses may be taken at any point in the 4 years. Tests used for counseling, placement, or credit: Placement, credit, or both will sometimes be given on basis of Advanced Placement Examinations. Academic regulations: A student may be dismissed at the end of the first term of the freshman year unless she has attained a cumulative average of D (1.0), or at the end of the freshman year unless she has achieved an average of 1.5 for the year. The number of students who do not meet this requirement is exceedingly small. Graduate programs: Early childhood education. Additional information: The Wheelock curriculum is a combined liberal arts and professional program with a major in early childhood education, preparing students to teach in nursery school, kindergarten, and the primary grades. The program includes field work with children throughout all 4 years and also includes 24 weeks of student teaching in the last 2 years. Interested students may select an emphasis in urban teaching. Students may choose a minor in 1 or 2 of 9 liberal arts areas.

ADMISSIONS. Applications in 1971: 3 men applied, 2 were accepted; 454 women applied, 308 were accepted. Admissions requirements: SAT and ACH in English composition plus 1 or 2 other areas by January of senior year. Accept ACT (by January, senior year). Foreign-language ACH recommended for those planning to continue studying that language. High school English 4 units, social studies, foreign language, mathematics, science. Applicants are expected to have 16 units in the areas listed above. The distribution is not strictly outlined. Interview strongly recommended. Basis for selection: Wheelock attempts to develop an understanding of the total student in making admissions decisions. Academic potential as evidenced in the secondary school record and motivation and personal appropriateness for entering the field of early childhood education are considered important. The interview, recommendations, and evidence of effective involvement with children are the ingredients that help define personal appropriateness. There are no specific cutoffs on class rank or test scores. Special attention is given to educationally disadvantaged students. Middle 50% of applicants accepted for admission had SAT-verbal scores between 475 and 560 and SAT-mathematical scores between 455 and 575. Application fee: $15, may be waived for applicants with financial need. Application procedures: Closing date for applications February 1, applicants notified of decisions by mid-March, accepted applicants must reply by May 1. CRDA, EDP-F. Transfer applicants: About 115 apply annually, and 50 are accepted. Apply by April 1 for fall term. Other requirements and procedures: preliminary applications (no fee) used to determine advisability of completing full application. Requirements used for freshman admission generally expected of transfer students as well. Transfer students are generally accepted at junior level and are expected to have 60 semester hours of liberal arts work and grades of C or better. Sophomore transfer students are admitted on the basis of space available. Proven interest in and potential for effective work in early childhood education are considered in addition to previous academic performance.

STUDENT LIFE. Freshman class: 2 men, 166 women, 32% from Massachusetts, 89% live on campus, 11% commute, 8% from minority backgrounds. Middle 50% of enrolled freshmen have SAT-verbal scores between 430 and 550 and SAT-mathematical scores between 425 and 550. Programs undergraduates choose: Education 100%. Postgraduate studies: 6% of graduates enter graduate or professional programs. Student activities: Student government, student newspaper, yearbook, drama, glee club, black student organization, social service organizations (tutoring and volunteer work—often with children). Student services: Counseling, health services, student employment service for undergraduates, placement service for graduates and alumni. Regulations: Students must live in college housing unless residing with family. Automobiles are permitted on campus during student-teaching terms. Additional information: Wheelock's small size and urban location are important to the overall atmosphere. Resident students make their own rules to govern themselves. Students are held responsible for their academic and personal lives.

ANNUAL EXPENSES. Tuition and fees: $2,255. Room and board: $1,250. Other expenses: $475.

FINANCIAL AID. Aid offered: Grants, loans, jobs, NDSL, EOG, CWSP. 81 accepted freshman applicants were judged to have need, 53 of these were offered aid, 15 of these were offered the full amounts they were estimated to need. Basis for selection: Financial aid decisions are made solely on the basis of need. If a candidate is acceptable for admission, she is eligible for financial assistance. Special consideration is given to students from low-income families. Application procedures: Closing date for applications February 1, applicants notified of decisions by mid-March, recipients of aid offers must reply by May 1. PCS and college's financial aid application required. Transfer students: Eligible for all types of aid. Same procedures as freshmen. Additional information: Insured tuition payment plan available if desired.

CURRICULUM. Undergraduate degrees offered: Bachelor. Fields of study: Art (art history), biological sciences (biochemistry, biology, botany, zoology), business and commerce (business management and administration), education (art, education of the mentally retarded, elementary, general, music, physical education, secondary), engineering, English and literature (English, literature, speech), foreign languages (Classical languages, French, German, Spanish), forestry and conservation, geography, health and medical professions (medical technology, nursing–registered), history and cultures (American, European), library science, mathematics, music (composition and theory, instrumental music, music history, voice), philosophy and religion (philosophy, religion, theology), physical sciences (chemistry, earth science, geology, physical sciences, physics), psychology (general), social sciences (economics, political science, sociology), theater arts (drama). Special programs: Honors program. Programs for students from minorities or low-income families: Special counselor, pre-admission summer program, tutoring, remedial instruction, reduced course load. Required freshman courses: English composition, foreign language, history or social studies, physical education, religion. Tests used for counseling, placement, or credit: Placement, credit, or both will generally be given for grades of 3 and higher in Advanced Placement Examinations. Credit will generally be given on basis of CLEP Subject Examinations. Academic regulations: Students are expected to have a C average or higher to maintain good academic standing. Some students are retained on probation. 85% of the freshmen complete the year in good academic standing.

ADMISSIONS. Applications in 1971: 1,330 applied (men and women), 1,277 were accepted. Admissions requirements: SAT required of all freshman applicants, used for counseling and testing by the college, not for admission. High school English 3 units, social studies 2, foreign language 2 (recommend), mathematics 2, science 2 (recommend). The student should complete 15 units of work. This work should include a minimum of 3 units in English as well as a 3 unit major sequence and 2 unit minor sequence from mathematics, sciences, language, or social sciences. Basis for selection: The college prefers Christian students. It accepts evangelical Christian students from a wide range of Christian traditions. It will also consider other applicants who have a genuine interest in the Christian aims of the college. Applicants who have a minimum of a C average in high school qualify for regular standing at the college. Others with an average below C may receive probationary admission, and they will be also required to take a limited academic load during the first semester. Students with poorer academic records in high school may enter the college's special developmental program. The college has an active recruitment program for minority race students. Special consideration is given to these students. Some of the students will be asked to enter a pre-admission program in the summer. Middle 50% of applicants accepted for admission had SAT-verbal scores between 425 and 570 and SAT-mathematical scores between 450 and 650. Application fee: None. Application procedures: No closing date for applications, applicants notified of decisions on a rolling admissions basis. Transfer applicants: About 200 apply annually, and 175 are accepted. Apply by June 15 for fall term. A transfer student must be in good standing at his previous institution. Transfer students are not required to take the SAT. Additional information: Decisions on admission of new students are made soon after receiving and reviewing the required admission materials, and the student is notified promptly.

STUDENT LIFE. Freshman class: 500 men, 470 women. 60% from Michigan, 50% live on campus, 40% commute, 2% from minority backgrounds. Middle 50% of enrolled freshmen have SAT-verbal scores between 425 and 570 and SAT-mathematical scores between 450 and 650. Programs undergraduates choose: Liberal arts 40%, engineering 5%, education 35%, business 5%, health services 10%, religion 5%. Postgraduate studies: 45% of graduates enter graduate or professional programs. Student activities: Student government, student newspaper, magazine, yearbook, religious organizations, drama, symphony orchestra, concert band, political organizations, social service organizations. Athletics: Archery, baseball-M, basketball, cross-country-M, field hockey-W, football (touch)-M, golf-M, handball-M, ice hockey-M, soccer-M, softball, swimming and diving-M, tennis-M, track and field-M, wrestling-M, badminton, table tennis-M, paddleball-M, volleyball. Student services: Counseling, health services, student employment service for undergraduates. Regulations: The college permits all students to have cars. They must be properly registered and parked at designated places. Freshmen and sophomores are expected to live in college residence halls. Juniors and seniors are permitted to reside in off-campus housing. The college has voluntary chapel programs which students are urged to attend.

ANNUAL EXPENSES. Tuition and fees: $1,500. Room and board: $890. Other expenses: $350.

FINANCIAL AID. Aid offered: Grants, jobs, NDSL, EOG, CWSP. 310 accepted freshman applicants were judged to have need, 300 of these were offered aid, 250 of these were offered the full amounts they were estimated to need. Basis for selection: The review of financial aid application forms from prospective freshmen begins in March. Students with complete applications having the greatest need are given first consideration for grants. Academic qualifications are a factor in the selection of scholarship recipients. Financial need determines the size of the scholarship award. Application procedures: No closing date for applications, applicants notified of decisions beginning April 1. PCS required. Transfer students: Applications of transfer students are treated in the same way as applications of

These two factors are the basis of the admissions decision. High school English 4 units, social studies 2, foreign language 3, mathematics 3, science 2. These are recommended not required secondary school course requirements. However, preference is given to students who follow a strong college preparatory program which normally includes the above listed courses. Interview recommended. Basis for selection: Admissions decisions are based on three factors. The applicant must be good academically. This means graduating in the top half of the class, obtaining a good score on the college entrance examination, and submitting a transcript that shows consistent work or improvement in the last year. Secondly, the applicant needs three recommendations, from a friend, a teacher, and a minister. Thirdly, supplementary factors are sometimes considered—leadership record, extracurricular activities, relationship to college, health, and denominational affiliation. Middle 50% of applicants accepted for admission had SAT-verbal scores between 440 and 610 and SAT-mathematical scores between 470 and 615. Application fee: $10, may be waived for applicants with financial need. Application procedures: Closing date for applications August 1, applicants notified of decisions on a rolling admissions basis. Transfer applicants: About 150 apply annually, and 120 are accepted. Apply by August 1 for fall term. Other requirements and procedures: transfer students must submit high school and college transcripts, SAT or ACT scores, and three references; transfer credit is given for comparable courses if the applicant obtained a grade of C or better.

STUDENT LIFE. Freshman class: 168 men, 198 women. 50% from Minnesota, 80% live on campus, 20% commute, 1% from minority backgrounds. Middle 50% of enrolled freshmen have SAT-verbal scores between 430 and 600 and SAT-mathematical scores between 460 and 600. Programs undergraduates choose: Liberal arts 20%, education 20%, business 5%, health services 5%, religion 6%, social work 12%. Student activities: Student government (all faculty committees have student members with voting privileges), student newspaper, yearbook, radio, Christian service teams, drama, concert band, political organizations, social service organizations. Athletics: Archery, baseball-M, basketball, bowling, cross-country-M, fencing-W, field hockey-W, football-M, golf-M, handball-M, ice hockey-M, skiing, soccer-M, softball-M, swimming and diving, tennis, track and field-M, wrestling-M, volleyball. Student services: Counseling, health services, student employment service for undergraduates, placement service for graduates and alumni. Regulations: Freshmen not living at home are required to live in campus housing. Additional information: General rules for student behavior exist but legalism and negativism are avoided as much as possible in order to place primary stress upon personal, vital relationship to Jesus Christ as Lord.

ANNUAL EXPENSES. Tuition and fees: $1,800, for students from out-of-state $760. Other expenses: Books, $150; personal, $200; travel, $50-$200.

FINANCIAL AID. Aid offered: Grants, jobs. NDSL, EOG, CWSP. Basis for selection: In selecting financial aid recipients, special consideration is given to the applicant's academic achievement, character, and promise. Those students with a financial need are also considered. The requirements for receiving financial aid are: a college application for financial aid; a completed PCS; and a grade-point average for returning students of 2.00 or above. Application procedures: Closing date for applications May 1, new applicants notified of decisions by May 30, returning students by July 15, recipients of aid offers must reply within 30 days. PCS or FFS required. Transfer students: Transfer students will be considered for financial aid on the same basis as entering freshmen. They will, however, not be eligible for the freshman introductory and freshman merit scholarships, but will be eligible for academic and honor scholarships. Former students who have taken course work at another school will be considered for financial aid on the basis of their previous Bethel record. Additional information: Along with the institutional aid, a student may also apply for a government guaranteed loan or be recommended for a commercial bank loan. There are also many opportunities to apply for scholarships or grants that are given by private individuals and organizations.

High school English 4 units, social studies 2, or foreign language 2, mathematics 2. Interview recommended. Basis for selection: Before reaching a decision, the admissions committee discusses many factors, most important of which are high school record and rank in class. Scores made on ACT or SAT are taken into consideration. Although these scores are significant, they are not considered all important. Experience indicates that best predictor for academic success in college is combination of high school grades and standardized admission test scores, with greater emphasis on high school grades. Student's character, personality, and leadership potential are also considered. Evaluations and recommendations of high school counselors and teachers give committee an insight to student's motivation and attitude toward college. Applicants accepted for admission who took the SAT had an average SAT-verbal score of 450 and an average SAT-mathematical score of 450. Middle 50% of applicants accepted for admission who took the ACT had ACT composite scores between 20 and 27. Application fee: $10, may be waived for applicants with financial need. Application procedures: Applications are accepted continuously on a rolling admissions basis with first applicants notified of decisions on December 15, other applicants notified of decisions weekly thereafter. Transfer applicants: About 190 apply annually, and 175 are accepted. Apply by August 1 for fall term. Other requirements and procedures: maximum of 64 hours accepted.

STUDENT LIFE. Freshman class: 118 men, 122 women. 82% from Mississippi, 83% live on campus, 17% commute. Middle 50% of enrolled freshmen have ACT composite scores between 20 and 26. Programs undergraduates choose: Liberal arts 19%, education 40%, business 30%. Postgraduate studies: 60% of graduates enter graduate or professional programs. Student activities: Student government, student newspaper, yearbook, drama, musical theater, Black Student Association, social service organizations, fraternities, sororities. Athletics: Baseball-M, basketball, football-M, golf-M, soccer-M, softball, tennis, volleyball, ping pong-M, badminton-W. Student services: Counseling, health services, student employment service for undergraduates. Regulations: No married student is allowed to live in dormitory. Students with junior standing and above are allowed to live off campus if written permission from parents or guardian is presented to the college. Use or possession of alcoholic beverages within boundaries of campus or at functions sponsored by an organization of the college is prohibited.

ANNUAL EXPENSES. Tuition and fees: $1,210. Room and board: $750. Other expenses: $250.

FINANCIAL AID. Aid offered: Grants, loans, jobs. NDSL, EOG, CWSP. 178 accepted freshman applicants were judged to have need, 178 of these were offered aid, 153 of these were offered the full amounts they were estimated to need. Basis for selection: Financial need is considered first. Academic and leadership qualifications are considered second. All students are considered on this basis. No test scores are used to qualify a student for aid. Application procedures: Closing date for applications April 1, applicants notified of decisions by April 15, recipients of aid offers must reply by May 1. PCS required. Transfer students: Junior college graduates may be considered for an Alexander F. Watkins Scholarship. All transfers are eligible for all aid that freshmen may receive, other than four year scholarships.

Three Rivers Junior College, Poplar Bluff, Missouri

Two-year public junior college for men and women. Undergraduates: 494 men, 428 women. Calendar: Semester, summer session. Location: Small city 80 miles from Cape Girardeau, Missouri.

CURRICULUM. Undergraduate degrees offered: Associate. Fields of study: Agriculture, art, biological sciences, business and commerce (business management and administration, sales and retailing, secretarial studies), education (business, elementary, music, physical), engineering (drafting), English and literature (speech), foreign languages (French, Spanish), health and medical professions (dental assisting, medical records librarian, nursing–registered), history and cultures, mathematics, music (instrumental music, voice), physical sciences, psychology (general), social sciences, theater arts (drama). Special programs: Cooperative education. Programs for students from minorities or low-income families: Special counselor, pre-admission summer program, tutoring, remedial instruction, reduced course load. Required freshman courses: English composition, history or social studies, mathematics, science. Tests used for counseling, placement, or credit: Credit will generally be given on basis of CLEP General Examinations. Maximum of 12 semester hours of credit by examination may be counted toward degree. Missouri Colleges Placement Test used for placement. Academic regulations: A student who fails to maintain a cumulative 2.0 average will automatically be placed on probation and limited enrollment.

ADMISSIONS. Applications in 1971: 498 men applied, 494 were accepted; 430 women applied, 428 were accepted. Admissions requirements: Missouri Colleges Placement Test before enrollment; used only for placement and counseling purposes. The high school diploma is the only requirement. Basis for selection: High school graduates who rank in the bottom 20% of their graduating class and below the twentieth percentile on the Ohio Psychological Examination or another recognized college admissions test must begin their program in either the summer or spring sessions. Application fee: $5. Application procedures: Closing date for applications 5 days after classes begin, applicants notified of decisions immediately. Transfer applicants: About 50 apply annually, and 50 are accepted. Students who have been regularly admitted to another college of recognized standing may be admitted on presentation of honorable dismissal.

If the student has a 2.00 overall grade-point average, all previous work is accepted; if not, only credit for grades of C or higher is accepted.

STUDENT LIFE. Freshman class: 494 men, 428 women, 98% from Missouri, 100% commute, 7% from minority backgrounds. Postgraduate studies: 40% of graduates enter 4-year programs. Student activities: Student government (student senate), student newspaper, yearbook, religious organizations (United Christian Movement), drama, social service organizations (Circle K Club, Astra Club). Athletics: Baseball-M, basketball-M, golf-M, tennis-M. Student services: Counseling, health services, student employment service for undergraduates, placement service for graduates and alumni. Regulations: No dormitories, no chapel attendance required. Faculty and students are required to obtain identification stickers for cars.

ANNUAL EXPENSES. Tuition and fees: $206 in district, $416 out-of-district, for students from out-of-state $606.

FINANCIAL AID. Aid offered: Scholarships. NDSL, EOG, CWSP. 225 accepted freshman applicants were judged to have need, 175 of these were offered aid, 125 of these were offered the full amounts they were estimated to need. Basis for selection: Since Three Rivers has an open-door admissions policy, academic qualifications have little influence on the awarding of federal financial assistance (except in the case of the NDSL program in which federal regulations require that a student be capable of maintaining a C average). Federal funds are awarded on the basis of applications submitted indicating number in family, family income, and other pertinent data. No special consideration (in the awarding of federal funds) is given to the place of residence of the student. Scholarship awards are made in keeping with policies established by the scholarship donor. Most scholarship recipients are selected by the college committee on scholarships and awards. Application procedures: Closing date for applications April, applicants notified of decisions by June, recipients of aid offers must reply within 10 days of notification. Statement of income by parents required. Transfer students: Policy same as for freshmen.

The college is pleased to encourage the competent student who has valid reasons for desiring transfer but cannot encourage the applicant with a history of academic or personal difficulty.

STUDENT LIFE. Freshman class: 230 men, 300 women. 75% from New Hampshire, 55% live on campus, 25% commute, 5% from minority backgrounds. Middle 50% of enrolled freshmen have SAT-verbal scores between 450 and 460 and SAT-mathematical scores between 460 and 470. New Hampshire students can be described as average to above average. Out-of-state students are definitely above average as determined by the more competitive admission requirements for out-of-state students. Programs undergraduates choose: Liberal arts 30%, education 70%. Postgraduate studies: 80% of graduates of 2-year programs enter 4-year programs. 65% of graduates of 4-year programs enter graduate or professional programs. Student activities: Student government (student senate, college senate, residence hall government), student newspaper, magazine, yearbook, radio, television, religious organizations (Newman Center with full time chaplain; full time Protestant chaplain), drama, musical theater, community symphony orchestra, concert band, brass ensemble, wind ensemble, concert jazz ensemble, The Random Concept, Young Democrats, Young Republicans, fraternities, sororities. Athletics: Archery, baseball-M, basketball, bowling, cross-country-M, field hockey-W, football-M, golf, gymnastics-W, handball-M, skiing, soccer-M, softball, squash, swimming and diving, tennis, track and field-M, water polo, wrestling-M. Student services: Counseling, health services, student employment service for undergraduates, placement service for graduates and alumni, reading clinic. Regulations: No restrictions on students having cars. Freshmen are required to live in college housing unless they are 21 years old, a veteran, or living with their parents, relatives, legal guardian, or spouse. The college has a performance policy rather than an attendance policy for upperclassmen. Freshmen are expected to attend all scheduled class meetings of courses in which they are enrolled. Formal restrictions and regulations have been kept at a minimum. The college does expect its students to conduct themselves with good taste and consideration for the rights and privileges of others. Additional information: The college, if it is to truly fulfill its ultimate objective, must function as a united community. Students, faculty, and administrators do not view themselves as divided or apart but, instead, a single force making every effort to develop the college into a free, open forum for the exchange and evaluation of knowledge.

ANNUAL EXPENSES. Tuition and fees: $750, for students from out-of-state $1,550. Room and board: $1,050. Other expenses: $500.

FINANCIAL AID. Aid offered: Grants, loans, jobs. NDSL, EOG, CWSP. 182 accepted freshman applicants were judged to have need, 156 of these were offered aid, 60 of these were offered the full amounts they were estimated to need. Basis for selection: Over 95% of all student aid funds are awarded solely on the basis of need. This practice gives special consideration to minorities and poverty-level-income families. Middle 50% of applicants who were offered financial aid had SAT-verbal scores between 500 and 550 and SAT-mathematical scores between 475 and 540. Application procedures: No closing date for applications. PCS required, and the college's own application. Transfer students: Treated the same as freshman applicants.

CURRICULUM. Undergraduate degrees offered: Bachelor. Fields of study: Art, biological sciences (biology), business and commerce (business management and administration), education (elementary, home economics, secondary), English and literature (literature), foreign languages (Classical languages, French, German, Russian, Spanish), history and cultures, home economics (food and nutrition), library science, mathematics, music, philosophy and religion (philosophy, religious studies), physical sciences (chemistry, physics), psychology, social sciences (economics, sociology). Special programs: Accelerated program, cooperative education, honors program, independent study, summer program abroad sponsored by the college and permission for qualified students to spend their junior year abroad. Programs for students from minorities or low-income families: Special counselor, tutoring, reduced course load. Required freshman courses: English composition, foreign language, history, mathematics or science, physical education. All of these requirements are waived for students in the honors program. Tests used for counseling, placement, or credit: Placement, credit, or both will sometimes be given on basis of Advanced Placement Examinations. Academic regulations: For 31 credits, 1.5 grade-point average required and no more than 8 credits of D. 79% complete year in good standing. Additional information: A student-faculty committee is presently working on a curriculum revision which will replace the numerous requirements of the freshman and sophomore years with a core of interdisciplinary courses.

ADMISSIONS. Applications in 1971: 319 women applied, 312 were accepted. Admissions requirements: SAT by March of senior year. Three ACH are required: everyone must take the English Composition Test, a language ACH studied at least two years in high school, and either a biology, a chemistry, or a mathematics ACH. Prospective biology or mathematics majors must take a mathematics ACH, prospective chemistry majors must take a mathematics and a chemistry ACH in place of the language ACH. ACH are used just for placement. High school English 4 units, social studies 1, foreign language 2, mathematics 2, science 1, other academic 6. For specific reasons, exceptions to the above requirements are made on occasion. Interview recommended. Basis for selection: A committee of 9 reviews folders and makes its decision according to the following factors in the order of their listing: school achievement record and recommendations, activities, and test scores. Special consideration is given to alumnae daughters and to minority and low-income groups. The college is also interested in enrolling foreign and out-of-state students. Middle 50% of applicants accepted for admission had SAT-verbal scores between 450 and 550 and SAT-mathematical scores between 450 and 550. Application fee: $15, may be waived for applicants with financial need. Application procedures: Closing date for applications May 1, applicants notified of decisions on a rolling admissions basis, beginning January 15, accepted applicants must reply by April 1. EDP-S. Transfer applicants: About 55 apply annually, and most are accepted. Apply by July 1 for fall term. Other requirements and procedures: letter of recommendation from dean of college; college transcript; ordinary freshman requirements. Credits transferable depend on grade (no D's transferable), the individual's proposed major, and the comparison to the college's curriculum requirements. Ordinarily 64 credits are the maximum of transferable credits. Students applying with an A.A. degree who were in a transfer program are accepted with credits in D if their cumulative grade-point average is 2.0. Special consideration is given so that substitutions can be made for general requirements.

STUDENT LIFE. Freshman class: 275 women. 78% from New Jersey, 75% live on campus, 25% commute, 7% from minority backgrounds. The academic ability of the freshman class varies over a wide range, and there is a degree of flexibility in the program to meet the academic needs of the students by means of honors and independent study. Programs undergraduates choose: Liberal arts 54%, education 27%, business 2%, home economics 12%, science 5%. Student activities: Student government, student newspaper, magazine, yearbook, religious organizations (Liturgy Commission), drama, glee club, political organizations (Young Republicans Club), ethnic organizations (Organization of Black Students, International Students Organization). Athletics: Basketball, bowling, field hockey, softball, swimming and diving, tennis, volleyball. Student services: Counseling, health services, student employment service for undergraduates, placement service for graduates and alumnae. Regulations: All students who are not commuting from home are expected to live in the college residence halls. Senior and junior resident students and all day students are permitted cars on campus. 65% are residents. Residence halls are governed by student-faculty councils. Most dormitory regulations stem from consideration of others as persons. There is no compulsory chapel attendance.

ANNUAL EXPENSES. Tuition and fees: $1,775. Room and board: $1,200. Other expenses: $200-300.

FINANCIAL AID. Aid offered: Grants, loans, jobs, Educational Opportunity Fund. NDSL, EOG, CWSP. 115 accepted freshman applicants were judged to have need, 95 of these were offered aid, 20 of these were offered the full amounts they were estimated to need. Basis for selection: College awards are either scholarships—based on rank in class and SAT results and need—or grants-in-aid based on need. No distinction is made in regard to residence of applicants unless there is a restricted scholarship involved. For all other aid, such as federal programs or New Jersey state programs, guidelines for need and eligibility stated by each program are used. Students from poverty-level families may receive sufficient aid for all college expenses. Application procedures: Closing date for applications for college scholarships February 1, other aid May 1; applicants notified of decisions for college scholarships by March 15, other aid July; recipients of aid offers must reply for college scholarships by April 1, for other aid no reply needed. PCS required. Transfer students: If funds are available transfer students are given amounts comparable to what they had received in the past. One difference may occur if a college scholarship is involved. Transfer students should request a transfer of financial aid information form to be sent to the first college. PCS should be filed by May 1. All other applications should be in by June 1. Additional information: Students should take advantage of any state program for which they qualify.

Rutgers – The State University: Douglass College
New Brunswick, New Jersey

Four-year public liberal arts college for women. Undergraduates: 3,300 women. Graduates: 186 women. Calendar: Semester. Location: Small city 35 miles from New York City. Special features: Douglass is the co-ordinate women's division of Rutgers University, the State University of New Jersey. The 3 resident undergraduate colleges in New Brunswick, Douglass College, Rutgers College, Livingston College, form a federation making possible the sharing of many academic, social, and extra-curricular activities. There are 5 language houses, an African and Afro-American House and a Home Management House for home economic majors. The 4 living centers which include small houses and large residence halls, are organized into smaller units of 14 to 40 women with a student house chairman for each unit.

CURRICULUM. Undergraduate degrees offered: Bachelor. Fields of study: Agriculture (agriculture economics, agronomy–field crops, animal science, dairy science, fish and game–wildlife management, food science, horticulture, landscaping), art (art history, graphic arts, photography, studio art), biological sciences (bacteriology, biochemistry, biology, botany, ecology, marine biology, physiology, zoology), communications (journalism), computer science and systems analysis (computer science), education (art, child development and nursery, health, home economics, music, physical education, secondary, speech and hearing), engineering (aerospace and aeronautical, agricultural, chemical, civil, construction and transportation, electrical, engineering design as integrated with stated curricula, engineering sciences, industrial and management, materials science, mechanical), English and literature (creative writing, English, literature, speech), ethnic studies (black or Afro-American), foreign languages (Classical languages, Hebrew, French, German, Italian, Russian, Spanish), forestry and conservation, geography, health and medical professions (medical technology, pharmacy), history and cultures (American, ancient, Asian, European, Latin-American, Russian), home economics (clothing and textiles, family relations, food and nutrition, infant and child care, institution management), mathematics, music (composition and theory, instrumental music, music history, voice), philosophy and religion (philosophy, religion), physical sciences (chemistry, geology, meteorology, oceanography, physical sciences, physics), psychology (child, experimental, general, social), social sciences (anthropology, economics, international relations, political science, social work, sociology), theater arts (dance, drama, theater arts). Special programs: Honors program, independent study, study abroad (junior year abroad program), 3-2 liberal arts and engineering combination. Programs for students from minorities or low-income families: Special counselor, pre-admission summer program, tutoring, remedial instruction, reduced course load. Military training: Air Force ROTC. Tests used for counseling, placement, or credit: Placement, credit, or both will sometimes be given on basis of Advanced Placement Examinations. ACH is used for language placement. There is a mathematics placement test also. Academic regulations: Each freshman's record is reviewed by a standing academic affairs committee of the faculty. In recent years, fewer than 1% have been dropped for academic reasons. Graduate programs: Biological sciences, fine and applied arts, music, speech pathology. Additional information: Students carry a 4-course load, rarely more, so that the emphasis is on achieving high quality and developing individual initiative in course work beyond class meeting hours. Students may design an individual major with the approval of an adviser and the curriculum committee.

ADMISSIONS. Applications in 1971: 3,405 women applied, 1,811 were accepted. Admissions requirements: SAT by January of senior year. High school English 4 units, foreign language 2, mathematics 3, academic 5, nonacademic 2. 4 units mathematics required for engineering and recommended for chemistry, mathematics or physics majors. Basis for selection: The college seeks to achieve student body diversity. It gives primary emphasis to the recruitment of students with high academic achievement and potential and strives also to include in each entering group students who are educationally or economically disadvantaged, those with special talents and interests, those who demonstrate civic leadership, and older women who either did not enter college after high school graduation or had their college careers interrupted before receiving their degrees. Regard is also given to the importance of maintaining fair representation for all parts of the state, as well as suitable proportion from other states and countries. Middle 50% of applicants accepted for admission had SAT-verbal scores between 550 and 599 and SAT-mathematical scores between 550 and 599. Application fee: $10, may be deferred for applicants with financial need. Application procedures: Closing date for applications February 1, applicants notified of decisions by April 1, accepted applicants must reply beginning May 1. High school English 4 units, social studies 2, foreign language 2, mathematics 2, science 1, electives 5. Students are accepted without all of above but they must make up deficiencies during first semester. Interview recommended. Basis for selection: SAT scores; a specific class rank or academic average are not required. Emphasis is placed on recommendation of guidance counselor and the student's motivation and desire to attend college. A remedial program enables the college to take a number of students who don't meet standard entrance requirements. Application fee: $10, may be waived for applicants with financial need. Application procedures: Closing date for applications August 1, applicants notified of decisions on a rolling admissions basis. CRDA. Transfer applicants: Procedures are the same as for freshmen. Transcript from previous college attended is required. 30 credits C or better may be transferred. Additional information: All aspects of student performance are considered (school activities, outside jobs, family responsibilities, the student's motivation and desire for a college education). The interview is important.

STUDENT LIFE. Freshman class. 100 men, 120 women. 100% from New Jersey, 100% commute, 25% from minority backgrounds. Programs undergraduates choose: Liberal arts 40%, education 60%. Postgraduate studies: 80-85% of graduates enter 4-year programs. Student activities: Student government, student newspaper, magazine, yearbook, religious organizations (Liturgical Committee), drama, dance, Black and Puerto Rican Student Union. Athletics: Basketball. Student services: Counseling. Regulations: Any student may drive to campus; no dormitories; no dress code; no compulsory chapel. Additional information: Proximity to New York City provides opportunities to attend plays, museums, art exhibits, and other cultural activities.

ANNUAL EXPENSES. Tuition and fees: $1,300. Other expenses: $200.

FINANCIAL AID. Aid offered: Grants, jobs, Educational Opportunity Fund. EOG, CWSP. 230 accepted freshman applicants were judged to have need, 50 of these were offered aid, 40 of these were offered the full amounts they were estimated to need. Basis for selection: Most aid is awarded on basis of need, some on scholastic ability. There are only a few out-of-state applications, but they are considered. Under the guidelines for the Economic Opportunity Fund program, the college cannot accept students in the top quarters of their class or who have 500 or over on SAT. Application procedures: Closing date for applications June 15, applicants notified of decisions on a rolling basis, recipients of aid offers must reply within 2 weeks. PCS or FFS, and FAQ required.

St. John's College, Santa Fe, New Mexico

Four-year private nonsectarian liberal arts college for men and women. Undergraduates: 154 men, 114 women. Calendar: Semester, summer session. Location: Small city. Special features: St. John's seeks to develop free and rational men and women committed to the pursuit of knowledge in its fundamental unity, intelligently appreciative of their common cultural heritage, and conscious of their social and moral obligations. The primary function of the liberal arts has always been to mediate men's understanding, to give conscious form to knowledge through systems of signs accommodated to men's intellects—that is, words and numbers. There are many ways to develop these arts. The St. John's program emphasizes four of them: discussion, translation, demonstration, and experimentation. But whatever the methods used, they all serve the same end: to make the student think for himself, to enable him to practice the arts of freedom. Teaching faculty/student ratio: 1 to 8.

CURRICULUM. Undergraduate degrees offered: Bachelor. Fields of study: The common course of study undertaken by all students is dedicated to the ideal of liberal learning achieved through study (from original sources) and discussion. The interrelated program includes philosophy, language, mathematics, science, music, literature, history, and political theory. Graduates work in such diverse fields as medicine, city planning, theater, law, theology, social work, journalism, education, mathematics, and so on. Architecture (city planning, urban development), art (art history), biological sciences (biology), business and commerce (business management and administration), communications (journalism), computer science and systems analysis (data processing, systems analysis), education (elementary education, general education, secondary education), English and literature (creative writing, English, literature), foreign languages (Classical languages, French), health and medical professions, history and cultures (American, ancient, area and regional, European), library science, mathematics (statistics), music (composition and theory, instrumental music, music history, voice), philosophy and religion (philosophy, religion, scholastic philosophy, theology), physical sciences (astronomy, chemistry, physical sciences, physics), psychology (general, social), social sciences (anthropology, foreign service, international relations, political science, public administration, social work, sociology), theater arts (dance, drama, theater arts). Required freshman courses: English composition, foreign language, history or social studies, literature, mathematics, science. A single, unified program is required for all students. Academic regulations: At the end of each semester, oral rather than written examinations are held. The student is questioned on the texts he has read and on his critical and interpretative opinions. He is encouraged to consider different parts of his study in relation to each other and to problems that may not have been treated in any of his classes. At the end of each semester the student meets all his tutors in the "don rag." Each tutor reports on the student's work during the semester; the student is then invited to report on himself and to judge his own work. Advice may be requested and given; difficulties may be aired. Grades are neither distributed nor discussed. Graduate programs: Graduate Institute in Liberal Education. Additional information: In 1937 the college eliminated academic majors, electives, lecture classes, textbooks, fraternities, intercollegiate athletics, and the gap between teacher and student. In their place, St. John's gave its students a curriculum based on rigorous study of language, science, mathematics, and music; thoughtful examination and discussion of the "Great Books"; and an active role in their own education.

ADMISSIONS. Applications in 1971: 128 men applied, 91 were accepted; 113 women applied, 91 were accepted. Admissions re- quirements: ACT or SAT. High school English 4 units, foreign language (in the same language) 2, mathematics 3, science 3. Requirements vary for those students accepted for early entrance. Interview required for early entrance. Interview recommended for other applicants. Basis for selection: Applicants submit a lengthy essay which is given primary consideration by the admissions committee. Other things considered by the committee are test scores (SAT or ACT), academic record, two letters of reference, and a record of an interview (not required). New students enter in February as well as September. No special consideration given to any application. Application fee: None. Application procedures: No closing date for applications, applicants notified of decisions on a rolling admissions basis. Transfer applicants: About 85 apply annually, and 40 are accepted. Rolling admissions. Approximately 30% of each freshman class have attended college previously. All transfer students enroll as freshmen. Additional information: The application form asks for no irrelevant information and requires no fee. Students write (usually in 6 to 10 pages, sometimes in 20 or more) their answers to a list of questions designed to let them express themselves and to show the quality of their minds.

STUDENT LIFE. Freshman class: 49 men, 57 women. 9% from New Mexico, 98% live on campus, 2% commute. Middle 50% of enrolled freshmen have SAT-verbal scores between 610 and 699 and SAT-mathematical scores between 566 and 677. Programs undergraduates choose: Liberal arts 100%. Postgraduate studies: 50% of graduates enter graduate or professional programs. Student activities: Student newspaper, drama, dance, chamber music ensembles, individual concerts, voluntary social service work in community. Athletics: Basketball, fencing, gymnastics, skiing, soccer, softball, swimming and diving, tennis, track and field, karate. Student services: Counseling, health services, student employment service for undergraduates, placement service for graduates and alumni. Regulations: Freshmen may have cars. Unmarried students may live off campus only with special permission. The college observes New Mexico and local laws relative to alcoholic beverages and minors. The use of drugs not medically prescribed is prohibited. A student's enrollment is regarded as a commitment on his part that he will not take drugs. If he does so he will have broken faith with the college community, and his membership in the college will be terminated. Additional information: Work and play are not polarized. Whatever goes on outside the classroom at the college assumes much of the character of what happens inside. Students are expected to be neither "well rounded" nor "spread thin." They find their own interests and cultivate them to the extent they choose.

ANNUAL EXPENSES. Tuition and fees: $2,450. Room and board: $1,150. Other expenses: $525.

FINANCIAL AID. Aid offered: Grants, loans, jobs. NDSL, EOG, CWSP. 42 accepted freshman applicants were judged to have need; 42 of these were offered aid; 42 of these were offered the full amounts they were estimated to need. Basis for selection: Selection based on need as determined by the PCS, and the financial aid officer. Application procedures: No closing date for applications, applicants notified of decisions on a rolling admissions basis. PCS required. Transfer students: Aid is determined in the same manner as for any freshman. Additional information: Students on aid work at a campus job for the first $525. College grant added if necessary; a loan is added to the grant if the need is great enough to require it.
